In Remembrance

COMFORT

Oh, deem not they are blest alane
Whose lives a peaceful tenor keep;
The Power who pities man has shawn
A blessing for the eyes that weep.

The light of smiles shall fill again
The lids that overflow with tears;
And weary hours of woe and pain
Are promises of happier years.

For God has marked each sorrowing day,
And numbered every secret tear,
And heaven's long age of bliss shall pay
For all his children suffer here.

Martha A. Norris, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norris of Dewitt, become the bride of Arnold B. Blizzard, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Blizzard, of Dewitt, at a quiet ring ceremony at the Baptist parsonage in Lansing on Wednesday, Mar. 2, at 2 p. m., performed by Rev. Thomas Toy. They were attended by Brownie Berlin and Raymond Locher.

The bride was attired in a turquoise blue gown, with dark blue accessories, wearing a corsage of tailman roses and white hyacinths. Miss Berlin was attired in an Alice blue gown, with navy blue accessories, wearing a corsage of American Beauty roses and white hyacinths.

A wedding dinner was served to the immediate family, at the home of the bride's parents. Both young people are well known and have many friends. They will be home to their friends on a farm in Riley.

DEATH CLAIMS RILEY WOMAN

Many Attend Last Rites for Mrs. Gottfried F. Ottmar,
Aged 71, April 2nd

Mrs. Gottfried F. Ottmar, 71, well known and highly esteemed Riley township woman, passed away at her home Wednesday, April 2, after an illness of about two weeks. Funeral services were held at the residence at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with a friend of the family, Rev. Dr. Bishop of Lansing, for 21 years pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, now retired, officiating. Burial was made in the Boughton cemetery beside her only child who died 42 years ago.

Daisy Ruth Hildreth was born in Riley Dec. 7, 1869. In early childhood she developed a very sweet voice and sang at Christmas exercises, Sunday school picnics and entertainments while sitting on her father's knee. When grown to young womanhood she taught music to nearly all the children in the neighborhood and sang at funerals. Many fine musicians got their early training in music from her teaching.

On Nov. 3 1897, she was married to G. F. Ottmar. After spending a few weeks on a wedding trip in the west they settled on the farm where she died. In 1915 they took a trip to the Pacific coast and all through the western states. All these years she enjoyed unusually good health, and never had a doctor until she suffered a stroke March 23, 1941. A few days after that she was stricken a second time and never recovered.

She is survived by her husband, one sister, Mrs. Lula Burns of St. Johns; one nephew, Howard Keeny, of Davison, Mich.; a few cousins and a host of friends who mourn her passing. The floral tributes were many and in spite of the almost impassable roads, it was one of the largest funerals ever held in the community.

In Memoriam

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.
