FORMER CLINTON PIONEER DEAD

ALBERT HARLOW BORN 1826;
CAME TO CLINTON CO.
IN 1854.

Albert Harlow, son of Abner and Cynthia (Conant) Harlow was born in the state of Vermont, July 11, 1826. At the age of five years his parents moved from Vermont to the state of New York, where Mr. Harlow grew to manhood. His opportunities to obtain an education were very meager, as he assisted his father on his farm until he was 21 years of age. He soon left for Michigan, staying in Pontiac for some time. November 23, 1852 he was united in marriage at Portland, Michigan to Miss Catherine Mapes of Salem, Michigan. In 1854 they left for their new farm of 110 acres in Watertown, Michigan, where by hard work they soon had it cleared of the wilderness, great improvements made on it and commodious buildings erected on it. They resided on this farm until several years ago they sold it and went to Eaton Rapids to live to be near their children.

Five children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Harlow, Minnie, Edith, Florence, Nellie and one son, Bert. The eldest daughter, Mrs. Minnie Cluey and the youngest, Mrs. Nellie Stanton preceded their parents in death. Mrs. Harlow passed away on May 16, 1921.

Mr. Harlow was favored with a rugged constitution and was very temperate in all things and until the past few months had been able to attend to many duties about the house. In the declining years of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow's life they have resided with their daughter, Edith Forward, who has tenderly cared for them in health, illness and death. Mr. Harlow's illness was of only a few weeks duration, passing on Friday, November 9, 1923, at the age of 97 years. He is survived by three children, Mrs. Edith Forward of Eaton Rapids, Mrs. Florence Cleary of Oregon and Bert Harlow of Lansing, eight grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, besides other relatives and a host of friends, who called him Grandpa Harlow.

Mr. Harlow was a charter member of Dewitt Grange, a member of the Clinton County Pioneer society, being one of the oldest members of the society and a devoted member of the M. E. Church in Eaton Rapids.

Funeral services were held from his late home at Adelbert Forward's in Eaton Rapids. Monday, November 12, 1923, his body was brought to the Dewitt cemetery where short services were held. Rev. R. M. Millard, pastor of the M. E. Church at Eaton Rapids, officiated, and was laid to rest beside his wife in the Dewitt cemetery.

Deceased leaves to mourn their loss one son, Justus Hastings, and two daughters, Mrs. Ida Daniels and Mrs. Della Hill; besides a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The earthly life of Mrs. Hastings is well shown by the few words uttered Monday morning by one of our most beloved ladies of the neighborhood, who said "Next to my mother I never had a better friend than Mrs. Hastings. She was the kindest and best of neighbors and has always been known to be ready to assist at any home where sickness or trouble occurred, for miles around. We have lost one true friend."

HENNING

SOUTH OLIVE.—Again the quiet in our neighborhood has been broken by death's relentless hand. At about 11th Miss Mary Henning, residing one mile north of DeWitt, was returning to her home from Wacosta where she had taken some friends. She had a horse hitched to a double buggy and when near home her horse saw its mates running in the field and it ran too. On arriving at home and attempting to go in the yard the end of the thill struck the gate post throwing Miss Henning out with great force. Her lower limbs were paralyzed. Medical aid was at once summoned and everything done to relieve her suffering but all to no avail. She passed to the great beyond August 14th. But she was ready to go and spoke words of comfort to her widowed mother, brother and sister, and other relatives. She was a member of the German M. E. church and showed not so much by her words as by her every day life that she was a true Christian. She talked of death very calmly and had singing and prayers by her friends almost to the last. She was loved by all and will be greatly missed in the home that will know her no more forever but friends think of the joyful meeting on the other shore. Her funeral was held in her home Wednesday. Rev. Meyer, pastor of the German M. E. church, was assisted by Rev. C. F. Heitman, officiant. She looked as if she was only sleeping in a beautiful white casket, robed in white covered and surrounded with flowers the choicest kind. She was 26 years old and was laid to rest in DeWitt cemetery. It seemed almost as if nature wept over her early death, for the first rain we had in nearly five weeks fell softly while the services were being conducted. It seems as if the family are sadly afflicted. ten years ago John Henning came with his wife and children, two daughters and a son, to Michigan and purchased a beautiful home of William Dills one mile north of DeWitt. It seemed as though they were provided with everything that could bring comfort, but it was otherwise. In less than five years Mr. Henning was stricken down and had to leave his dear ones. Mrs. Henning had been an invalid for several years and depended upon Mary entirely to see the management of the house. And now she is gone. For what reason she was taken we cannot see now, but it may have been for the best or it would have been so.

Couple Exchange Vows In St. Joseph Church

Henning

St. Joseph Catholic Church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday morning, Feb. 23, when Miss Bernardine Rose Mankey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mankey of this city, became the bride of Ronald A. Henning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Henning of St. Johns, at a nuptial high mass at nine o'clock. Rev. Fr. Joseph Whelan read the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and friends.

Miss Pauline Henning sang the mass and also "Ave Maria" with Mrs. Herman Smith accompanying at the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in white slipper satin. The gown was fashioned with a marquisette yoke edged with Chantilly lace, a fitted bodice, and full hooped skirt which extended into a long graceful train. The front of the skirt had a draped effect, caught up with orange blossoms over two rows of Chantilly lace. Her double fingertip veil was of net and Spanish lace, held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with an arrangement of red roses. Her only ornament was a gold snake chain necklace, set with mother-of-pearl and rhinestones, which was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Marcella Mankey, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of apricot faille, fashioned with bertha collar, and draped hooped skirt, and wore mitts of matching material.

The bridesmaid, Miss Audrey Henning, sister of the bridegroom, wore a green faille gown identical to that of the maid of honor's. They each wore a crownless horse-hair, lace-trimmed picture hat, and carried a Spanish-type lace fan adorned with a white gardenia and red roses, and a shower of ribbons.

The little flower girls were Dru-cilla Henning of St. Johns and Peggy Jean Paine of Durand, nieces of the bridegroom. They were attired in white satin gowns. They wore net veils held in place by a tiara of seed pearls, and carried white satin baskets filled with red and yellow petals.

Master Albert Smith, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. He carried the two rings on a heart-shaped white satin pillow edged with lace.

Donald Henning, assisted his brother as best man, and Bernard Mankey, twin brother of the bride, was groomsman. Ed Mankey and Robert Henning, brothers of the bride and groom, served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mankey chose a light brown gabardine suit, with which she wore brown accessories. Mrs. Henning, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a brown crepe dress with black accessories. They each wore a corsage of yellow roses and white carnations.

At one o'clock dinner was served the bridal party and immediate families at the home of the bride's parents. In the evening a reception and wedding dance was held at Banner Grange Hall. A buffet lunch was served to about 200 guests in attendance. The three-tiered wedding cake was cut and served by the bride and groom. The couple received many lovely and useful gifts.

The new Mrs. Henning was graduated from Rodney B. Wilson high school with the class of 1947 and has since been employed at the Extension Office in St. Johns. Mr. Henning was graduated from the local high school in 1946 and is employed by Federal Mogul Corp.

The newlyweds left on a short wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a suit of light gray wool sharkskin with which she wore dark green accessories.
