McLouth the old home pictured here remained vacant or rented for a number of years. It was their granddaughter (the only surviving child of Willis and Josephine) who revitalized the home. Merle McLouth and her first husband, William Kraas, bought the Sibley Lumber Co. in DeWitt around 1920. At about the same time they built a home across the street from the old homestead.

McLouth history dates back to mid-1800's in DeWitt

By KEN COIN

Recently the Griffins have been cleaning out the attic of their landmark home and have been passing along some McLouth family papers to be placed in the library's local history collection. The following is a brief account of the family who made this their home for nearly 100 years.

In 1856, Newton and Emily (Hathaway) McLouth came up from Lenawee County and settled on a homestead four miles north of DeWitt in Riley Township. Shortly after the Civil War they moved to the DeWitt area, this time purchasing the former Morgan Christopher farm (at that time the farmland north of Madison street and west of Bridge).

The house pictured above was built for the McLouths in 1871 and substantial barns were added to the property in 1873 and 1888. A modern operation, it became one the showplace farms of the area. Besides farming and stock raising, Newton McLouth became actively engaged in land dealings and at one time owned five area farms totaling over 550 acres.

The McLouths had only two children, twin sons, William and Willis, born in 1856. William died when only five years old and the remaining child, Willis, eventually joined in business partnership with his father. In 1881 Willis married Josephine Holmes, a local teacher. They purchased and rebuilt a house across the street (currently the home of Dave and Peggy Haviland at 314 N. Bridge) where they remained for over 50 years.

Willis continued much of his father's land interests after the latter's death and was also a long-time partner in the DeWitt Mill and later became partners with two DeWitt merchants, Homer Brazee and John E. Jayne. In later years he was manager of DeWitt's Kraas Lumber and Coal Co. (owned by his daughter Merle). He and Josephine were charter members of the Masons and Eastern Star and active members of the old Clinton County Pioneer Society.

Obituary.

Mrs. Eliza Holmes died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Willis McLouth, Wednesday at 5 o'clock p. m., October 23rd, 1912. Mrs. Holmes was born in Shropshire, England, October 24th, 1823. If she had lived seven hours longer she would have been 89 years old. She was married to Geo. Holmes in Birmingham, England, Nov. 23rd, 1844. In 1854 she accompanied her husband to Michigan and settled in Duplain. About 1869 they moved to DeWitt township and settled one-half mile west of DeWitt village. Twelve years ago Mr. Holmes passed away. Soon after Mrs. Holmes purchased a home in DeWitt village near the home of her daughter. For some years she lived alone. As she began to feel the infirmities of age coming on she began living with her children winters and living by herself summer.

Last May her health began failing so fast that she did not leave the daughter's home. She kept gradually failing until the end, which was calm and peaceful. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Holmes. Three passed away in infancy, one daughter Florence, lived to grow to womanhood when she was called away. Mrs. Holmes is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Willis McLouth of DeWitt; two sons, Horace of St. Johns and Herbert of Duplain, besides a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren, besides several other relatives and a large circle of friends. She was a very bright woman and neighbor, loved and respected by all who knew her. She was a member of the Episcopal church, also a member of the Clinton County Pioneer Society. Her funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McLouth Saturday afternoon. Rev. Simson of the Episcopal church in Lansing assisted by Rev. G. T. Fished of DeWitt officiated. Prof. Geo. Gillett of St. Johns sang several beautiful selections. The casket was covered and surrounded with beautiful flowers. She was laid to rest in DeWitt cemetery beside her husband and daughter.

OBITUARY.

On April 24th, 1913, Mrs. William D. Holt, recently of Lansing, Mich., passed from this life at the age of 86 years and two months, and her body was laid to rest in the DeWitt cemetery by the side of her husband and of her daughter, Mary Pomroy Holt.

Three daughters and a son survive her, Mrs. Florence Richmon of Salem, Oregon, Jessie M. and Caroline L. Holt and Sherrill M. Holt of Lansing. A brother, D. W. Pomroy of St. Louis, Mo., and one sister, Mrs. W. Guthrie, of Chicago, Ill., also survive her, besides four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Sarah C. Pomroy was born Feb. 23, 1827, at Lockport, Niagara county, N. Y., where she grew to womanhood and where she was married to William D. Holt of Rockford, Ill., whom she has survived by 12 years.

She with her husband and family came to Michigan in the spring of 1867 and settled on a farm in Clinton Co., Two miles east of DeWitt where she has since resided with the exception of the past two years spent with her children in Lansing.

The big house and barn which were erected from the first timber cut from the uncleared soil still stand on the old farm as a survival of pioneer days and as an eloquent testimony of the thrift, industry and devotion that characterized her whole life.

The Rev. Aldinger paid in part the following tribute to her memory:

"She was a great lover of her home making it the real altar upon which she offered her life in service to God and man. Here she sang her songs, dreamed her dreams, and lived her life that enriched our common humanity.

"She was sustained through all the vicissitudes of life by an unfaltering trust in the love and goodness of a higher power.

"She loved everything that was beautiful and believed in all that was good. This was her religion. It constituted the strength and richness of her inner life so beautiful in its simplicity and in its devotion.

"Her closing years of illness were borne with great patience as she waited the final call with sunshine in her face and without a fear or anxiety in her heart.

Thus she has left the example of a long, peaceful and devoted life crowned with the blessed memories and sacrifices of many years.

Unlike the countless multitudes who never live out half their days she was permitted to round out the full cycle of man's life to more than four score years. The spring time of her life with its buds and blossoms was followed by its long summer of maturing showers and sunshine and then the autumn with its golden harvest of noble thoughts and deeds and, finally, winter with its snows of age as a crowning mantle of purity.

Thus has a rare spirit passed from its tenement of clay to a larger fellowship of life and love.

"Most beautiful things in life come by two and three, by dozens and by hundreds—plenty of roses, stars, sunsets, rainbows, brothers and sisters, aunts and cousins, but only one mother in all the wide world."

MR. AND MRS. LEE HOWARD

MEMORIES — An old school album holds many memories for Mr. and Mrs. Lee Howard of Howe rd., near DeWitt. They will mark their golden wedding anniversary Saturday. They met 53 years ago in the Sunfield school, where he was superintendent, and she was a member of the senior class. The two lower pictures show them as they looked at that time. Two Ex-Teachers Begin Their Second Retirement

Ready to Mark Golden Anniversary After Ending Emergency Duty

By THELMA HARNETT
(State Journal Staff Writer)

Report cards are graded. Saturday's golden wedding celebration plans are completed. And two former school teachers who live near DeWitt are beginning retirement a second time after coming to the rescue of a rural Clinton county school this past spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Howard of Howe rd., R1, DeWitt, have completed four months of teaching together in the two-room Lott school near their home.

EMERGENCY SITUATION

They took the job when the school was faced with an emergency after two instructors left at the end of the first semester.

It was a pleasant experience and somewhat exciting to be finishing the teachers' school reports, and planning their own golden wedding anniversary at the same time, the couple said.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard will mark their anniversary at a family dinner at 6 p. m. Saturday in Eyer's Steak House on US-27. Attending will be their five children and their families, including 10 grandchildren. The couple's children are Mrs. George Kirk, Columbus, O.; Mrs. Harry Kelley, Lombard, Ill.; John Howard, Rochester; Edmund Howard, Traverse City, and William Howard of Manistee.

HOW THEY MET

The parents date their romance back to 1907, when Mr. Howard came to Sunfield from Ionia to become school superintendent. Mrs. Howard was then Jennie Witherell, a member of the senior class. They were married three years later, and through the years have lived in a number of places, including Parma, Lake Linden, Sunfield, Hastings, Manton, Manistee and Lansing.

Mr. Howard taught school for 20 years. He then went to work for the state, being employed for a time by the department of social welfare and later the Michigan security commission. He retired in 1954. Mrs. Howard, who taught for two years prior to her marriage, resumed her career in the early 30's, teaching for about five years in rural schools in Barry county.

Memoir of Mrs. Mary E. Springsteen

As a ship glides in solemn majesty over the unruffled waters, so the spirit of the deceased took its flight. The rose tree that is full of buds and blossoms is a token of promise and has issued ~~flowering~~ life, reaching beyond death. Thus we are reminded there is hope beyond the grave.

In 1832, on May 11, amid the perfume of spring flowers at Bethany, Genesee County, New York, Mary E. Howe was ushered into this great world to begin a sojourn that extended over a period of four score years and ten. Saturday afternoon, August 12, at 1:30 at her home in Dewitt; when the summer months have nearly passed and the beautiful golden grains are being garnered, her spirit took its flight, after a lingering illness. When a child of seven years of age she came to Michigan with her parents, who located at Holly, Oakland County. On October 23, 1848 she was united in marriage to John S. Springsteen. They at once established a home at Fenton, Genesee County, Michigan, where they resided for fifteen years, coming to Dewitt, Clinton County, in 1863. Nine children were born to this union, Eliza, William, Marion, Frank, Ella, Ida, Eda, Emma and L. D.

In 1865 the messenger of death came, the husband and father was taken from this family, and during the years that followed, this woman, who had endured the hardship and privations of those pioneer days, struggled on with undaunted courage, keeping the home-fire burning until 1872, when duty called her and she returned to the old home at Holly to be with her aged mother and to care for her until she passed on in 1901 at the ripe age of 69 years. For the past 12 years she had a home with a brother and her sons.

Fodder Corn for Dairy Cows.

Below are a few extracts from an article on the above subject which appeared in the American Creamery:

"Planted in rows three feet apart and six to twelve inches apart in the row, will give you a ration for milch cows that is hard to beat; certainly no one feed is as valuable when the cost is taken into consideration. An acre of 'Stowell's Evergreen Sweet Corn,' planted in this way on any good soil, will give you not less than eight tons of good feed to each acre. This would be sufficient to feed ten cows fifty pounds each, every day for about a month, feed each cow twenty-five pounds morning and night, ears and all, and they will treat you to a generous surprise when you get your monthly settlement. Taken by itself, the returns from a bountiful supply of fodder are surprising but if by any force of reasoning you could be induced to feed about two pounds of bran daily in addition, the surprise would be still greater. You would then have a well-balanced ration and one that would be productive of great results. The cost of such a ration would be not over 2c per day per cow, for the fodder, counting everything, the bran would cost about 2c, making a total cost not to exceed 4c per cow, each day. The extra feed you give your milking cows, is like sowing seed on fertile ground, it shall be returned to you an hundred fold. We have from Prof. W. A. Henry, of Wisconsin, the following: 'I believe no single acre of land on the farm will pay as large a profit as that planted to an early variety of corn for the purpose of feeding in August and early in September, when our pastures are short and milk-lessness rapidly because of the hot weather, annoyance from flies and lack of abundant feed. The wise farmer will have a patch of fodder corn.'

We thank our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in the sickness and death of our mother, also for floral offerings.

ADDITIONAL COUNTY.

OLIVE.

OLIVE, March 31, 1891.

Mr. somebody had better look out and not let his horse tip him off the sluice into the water, especially if the water is nearly three feet deep, unless he wishes a cool bath.

Last week was a splendid sugar week. The coldest days we had the sap ran the best. The demand is good for all genuine sugar and syrup, but where it is half or two-thirds brown sugar and poor grade at that, the demand is, of course, not so great.

Last Friday, March 27th, the members of the G. W. Anderson post and W. R. C. and several of the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reed met at their home in the south and west corner of Olive, and gave them a surprise. The company left a beautiful set of luncheon dishes as a token of regard for Mr. and Mrs. Reed. All present report a very pleasant time.

Contagious diseases seem to be plenty this spring. Chicken pox, scarlet fever, plenty of grip, and often we hear of a case of matrimony. The scarlet fever patients are all doing well; no new cases yet. W. S. Dills' family have been seriously afflicted this winter and spring. Mrs. Lovinia Simmons has been helpless for a long time, and Mr. and Mrs. Dills and their hired man and hired girl were all sick with the grippe at once, making five sick ones in one house. All but Mrs. Simmons are better; she remains about the same.

Pomona grange met at South Riley last Wednesday, March 25th. A good attendance considering the bad roads. The meeting was very interesting. Several questions were quite well discussed. One question that received considerable attention was in regard to the attorney general's salary. The majority seemed to be against the increase. Another was, "Should the Secretaries of the Grange Receive pay for their Services?" Some claim they should, others that they should not, for the reason that the knowledge they received while thus employed would fully repay them for all trouble. The young people gave an entertainment in the evening. Circumstances were such your correspondent could not stay during the evening, but I am well satisfied that it was good, for the young people of South Riley are capable of entertaining when they set out to do so. NONSENSE.

Mark Gage is on the sick list.

Mrs. Boron is sick with the grippe.

Dave McConkey has the grippe and neuralgia.

Quite a heavy rain in this vicinity last night.

...to school during the spring term.

Miss Pettit, of Wayne county, Ohio, is visiting Mrs. Eugene Brye.

Louis Boron, Jr. came home week before last after spending seven weeks in Ohio and has since hired out to John Blam for the season. VENICE.

The sick here are improving.

not the state pay just as much for help in the future, should the amendment carry, as the has in the past? Will we get any better legal ability, or any larger doses of justice? We believe all these questions can be answered in the negative, with a capital N too.

Sarah L., wife of Deacon Howe, departed this life, the 24th inst, after an illness of a few days with the grippe, aged 78 years. She was the mother of nine children, six of whom survive her. Merritt and Henry lost their lives in the war of the rebellion; and Sarah, after a long illness and great suffering, died several years ago. Mrs. Howe was an estimable wife and mother, and none knew her but to respect her. Her funeral sermon was ably preached by Rev. Allen, of St. Johns, at Olive M. E. church, last Thursday and her remains were followed to their last resting place in North Olive cemetery by a large number of relatives and friends. Thus one by one we are passing away. SAM.

GREENBUSH.

GREENBUSH, March 31, 1891.

Herbert Rummel is dangerously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Bower will move on the Holmes farm.

Mrs. J. F. Andrus went to Grand Rapids Saturday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Emmet Suttin. She will also visit friends in Kalamazoo.

Married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Post, of Greenbush, March 25th, 1891, by Rev. Wm. A. Taylor, Frank Bower and Miss Orpha Post, both of Greenbush. A large circle of friends were present and many handsome and valuable presents were received.

Miss Amy Dean, of St. Johns, closed a very successful term of school in district No. 1 last Friday. A program was had consisting of devotional exercises, singing, recitations, readings, dialogues, tableaux, etc., which was well carried out by the scholars, and certainly showed great credit to themselves and teacher. Miss Dean has been very faithful in discharging her duties as a teacher, and we are sorry she could not remain to teach the next term. O, MY.

At a meeting of seventy-five teachers and patrons of schools at Gunnisonville March 21st, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That we are in favor of the present county supervision of our common schools.

Resolved, That we favor county uniformity of free text books.

Resolved, That we extend to the people of Gunnisonville our thanks for their cordial invitation to meet with them, and the right royal reception we have received to-day.
