Many Guests Dine and Dance At Riley Wedding Reception

Sehlke

St. Johns Folks Among Crowd at Martens Home
On April 24th

By G. F. Ottmar

Another of those occasions "that made Riley famous" occurred at the pleasant and hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martens of Riley township Wednesday, April 24, 1920, when their oldest daughter, Regina, was married to Richard Sehlke of Riley.

Shortly before 1:00 o'clock p. m. the contracting parties arrived at St. Peter's Lutheran church in Riley where a large assembly of relatives and friends greeted them. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. H. Wohlert, pastor of the church.

After the wedding they all drove to the home of the bride where they were received in due form by a large gathering of invited guests. About 5:00 o'clock a sumptuous dinner was served, and such eats. Noodle soup, chicken, roast beef, potatoes with brown gravy, cake and such good looking young waitresses.

Ask Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hulse, they were there, Harry and Sam Casteel set at the table side by side. Harry was dug out clean to his toes. Sam tried to keep up with him. Then there was Leo Benson. I thought he never would get full and Rollie Benson thought he was installing a furnace. And Xavier Barnhart tried to demonstrate what effect stockfood had on the appetite. This all made one think of Will Carleton. Well after all these were disposed of, there was lots left.

After supper the bowery was cleared and the dance started. The young people danced until early morning. John Krause's orchestra furnished "Old country music" in the house and all the old Germans danced as they used to do and it was the real stuff and enjoyed by all. The party began to break up after the midnight lunch. Those who could not and those who did not care to dance visited and played cards. When the guests left they all wished the young couple much joy and happiness and left them many valuable presents.

The bridesmaids were Irma Martens, sister of the bride, and Louise McPrangell. Best men, Fred Schelke, brother of the groom, and Herman Hopp, cousin of the bride.

The bride was dressed in white georgette with silver overlace and pearl bead trimming. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaids wore light green georgette and peach georgette.

Out-of-town guests were present from Detroit, Lansing, St. Johns, Grand Ledge and Toledo. O. Mr. and Mrs. Sehlke will be at home to their many friends after May 1 at their new home in Riley.

But in whatever company he came,

His appetite stood by him all the same.
No picnic near, in weather foul or pleasant,
But Sam and stomach managed to be present.
And when, with innocent, unconscious air,
He placed himself at table, firm and square,
With one eye partly closed, the other looking
Intently at the different styles of cooking;
And when, with savage-gleaming knife and fork,
He brought himself down seriously to work,
And marched through every dish in conquering glory,
And ravaged all the adjacent territory,
Making the table for some distance round
Look like a fiercely hard-fought battle-ground,
A smile upon his placid face would fall,
As if life wasn't a failure after all.

Golden Wedding.

Last Monday afternoon, January 16th, 1894, sixty-five relatives and friends met with Mr. and Mrs. Holland Sias, of South Riley, to help them celebrate their fiftieth anniversary or golden wedding. The roads were bad and the day was gloomy, but these difficulties did not stand in the way of preventing the friends from accepting the kind invitation. What nature lacked out doors, love and good will made up in doors, for the sunshine of friendship and good fellowship shone warm and bright. So few couples among thousands are spared to live together until half a century has passed over their wedded lives, that it was a pleasure for all to be there and a pleasure too, that will never be forgotten while memory lasts. I doubt if any one present enjoyed being there more than your humble correspondent. Twenty-three years ago I taught school in South Riley nearly a year and had the pleasure of boarding around. I had the advantage over the teachers of to-day, for I not only knew the pupils well but the parents also, and was truly a great treat to have the privilege of renewing old acquaintances and forming many new ones. Many of my pupils were there but had grown to manhood and womanhood with families of their own growing up around them, and although my heart is as young as those days I, as well as several others present, had to acknowledge that time is surely bearing us down the stream of life. Among the company present was the tiny babe in its mother's arms and the aged grandmother of 85 years. The bride said that to look ahead fifty years at the time of her marriage it seemed very far away but to look back it seemed only a step.

Mr. and Mrs. Sias came from New York when woods were more plenty than cleared fields; but they did not stand idle or turn back as their farm, comfortable home and well tilled ground shows. Time has dealt lightly with them as they look much younger than they are. Since they came to Michigan two daughters have crossed over the silent river and found eternal life; but Mr. and Mrs. Sias have the blessed assurance that all is well and that when the times comes for them to leave this world of care they will be a united family where sorrows never come and partings are no more. One son is spared them and he lives on the homestead with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Sias were the recipients of several fine presents, the following is a partial list: gold glasses, C. Sias and wife; silver tassions, Mrs. A. Filmore; banquet lamp, Charles Forman and wife; picture, S. Jones and wife; lamp, W. Hungerford and wife; silver cake basket, gold lined, Mr. Fenton and wife; and Mr. Conklin and wife; china cups and saucers, H. Molinian and wife; tida, Mrs. Schlimmerhorn; #2, Mrs. Whitaker St.; rose bowl, O. Robinson and wife; mat, Mrs. Doe; cup and saucer, Orrin Stevens; silver souvenir spoon, A. Craun and wife; silver souvenir spoon; Celia Birchard and wife; gold ring, $10 in gold, two silk handkerchiefs, two scarf pins and pineapple cushion, Mrs. Burt; glass fruit dish, H. Stevens and wife; sugar shell and butter knife, J. N. DeWitt and wife; silver nut picks, L. D. Richmond and wife; silver fruit knives, M. Matthews and wife; sugar shaker, Mrs. P. Huntly; two picture frames, Mr. Kent and wife; salt and pepper set, Mrs. E. Stevens; gold thimble, A. Robinson and wife; wall pocket, A. Kimball and wife; perfume case, Irma Kimball.

Among the guests from abroad were Chas. Forman and wife, Mrs. A. Filmore and B. F. Filmore from Fremont, Mich.; M. L. Fenton and Mrs. J. H. Conklin, Marian, Mich.; Hetty Matthews, Reese, Mich.; Mrs. P. Huntly, Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sias, Toquon, Mich.; J. N. DeWitt and wife, I. D. Richmond and wife, Mrs. S. Jones, Allie Jones, St. Johns.

A fine supper was served for which five turkeys and twelve chickens' lives were sacrificed. The tables were loaded down with every delicacy of the season. Huge dishes of oranges also, graced the tables. After supper Charles Forman sang songs very appropriate for the occasion, then Lafayette Fenton read the following letter:

LANSING, Mich., January 15, 1894.

Dear Friends: Mr. and Mrs. Sias' greetings to you and to all upon this happy anniversary of a day long passed. A half a century is a long time to think of crawling along day by day, every hour full of care and work with many joys and blessings crowded in along the way. But doubtless, to-day as you look back to that hour when you began life's journey together the time seems short, in spite of the many changes that have come to you. It is a kind provision of nature that when we look back over the past the trials sink out of sight or if remembered, lose their sharpest stings while pleasures increase as we look at them in after years. May this occasion be one that you will be glad to think of as one of the most joyous of your lives. May you realize the presence of your loved ones who have passed on before and may you realize that only a mist lies between you and that fair land where they dwell, and are only a little in advance of us who are on the homeward way.

May you yet have many more years; enough to bring you to the goal of 75 years of wedded life. Please accept the best wishes of your sincere friend.

Dewitt—A white cross, festooned with pink roses, on the altar, a bank of palms, ferns and baskets of fall flowers, with white tapers in candelabra formed the setting for an impressive candlelight wedding ceremony which united Ardla Ione, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Stampfly of Dewitt, and Russel Alger Sibley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alger Sibley, also of Dewitt, in marriage Saturday evening, Sept. 7, at Dewitt Community church.

Rev. LaVern Bretz read the double ring service before nearly 200 guests. The bride was gowned in embroidered white satin fashioned with a train. The bodice, which fastened at the back with satin-covered buttons, had a sweetheart neckline and the tight fitting sleeves came to a point over the hands. Her fingertip length veil of net was held in place by a tiara of lace and orange blossoms and her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried a bouquet of snow white roses and pompons tied with white satin ribbon.

The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Ranney, wore pink net over taffeta with jersey bodice and a shoulder length veil of net with shirred tiara of net. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and camellias tied with pink.

The bridesmaids, Miss Ila Howe, cousin of the bride, and Miss Lawaiiwa Wood wore identical gowns of blue net over taffeta with bodices of jersey and matching shoulder length veils and carried bouquets of yellow roses with matching ribbon. The flower girl, little Anne Stampfly, cousin of the bride, wore a floor length gown of pink net over taffeta with matching veil and carried a white crocheted basket of flowers.

Gordon Strahle carried the rings on a heart shaped satin pillow. Howard Sibley, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Francis Sibley and Carl Steinhardt, cousin and brother-in-law, respectively, of the groom. Miss Barbara Fuerstenau was pianist and Margaret Fuerstenau sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer." They also furnished music during the reception in the church parlors which followed the ceremony. The mothers of both bride and groom were attired in black with camelia corsages.

The happy couple left immediately for a honeymoon trip to California. The bride's travelling suit was of fuschia with black accessories. Mrs. Henrietta Ranney was mistress of ceremonies at the reception and was assisted by Mesdames Gladys Strahle, Edna Andrews, Lela Wood, Elfrieda Seeger, Esther Klaver, Marvel Forbis, Julia Volgand, the Misses Helen Moon, Laura Ranney and Helen Shirts.

The six-tiered wedding cake was flanked by white candelabra and a low bowl of flowers with the crystal punch bowl occupying the end of the table.

The bride has a months' leave of absence from the R. E. Olds Company where she has been a secretary for the past three years. Mrs. Sibley graduated from Eastern High School in Lansing in 1942 and attended Lansing secretarial school for one year. She is a talented young lady and has been prominent in musical circles, in 4-H club work, also in church and Grange activities.

Mr. Sibley graduated from Central High School in 1937, then took a post graduate course in 1938. The following year he attended M. S. C. He spent three years and eight months in service in World War II. He was first sent to Camp Wallis, Texas, then to Camp Hulen, Texas, then to Massachusetts. He was then sent to North Africa and Naples, Italy. His occupation was Motor Transportation with a Coast Artillery Battalion. He advanced to staff-sergeant and participated in four battles: Naples, Foggia, Rome-Arno, No. Appenines and Po Valley. Lifestyle

Long-ago veterans had local ties

There were many veterans of the War of 1812 who came to the DeWitt area in the early years of its settlement. Some stayed briefly before moving on, others remained and eventually died here. Several became prominent settlers while others lived out an obscure life; their former military service unrecorded.

Unlike veterans of all later wars (with the exception of the war with Mexico, 1846-48) veterans of the War of 1812 formed no local organizations. As a result, much of the information of these men's military past has been forgotten. Likewise, even many of the names have been lost.

The following are some veterans of this war who have a recorded association with early DeWitt.

Perhaps the most notable veteran of early DeWitt was its founder, Capt. David Scott. He was born in Litchfield, Conn., Nov. 1, 1779, and was reportedly a captain in the 23rd U.S. Infantry. He married Eunice Forbes of Shoreham, Vt., in 1801. They settled at DeWitt in 1803 and it was here that he died, May 7, 1851. He and his wife are buried in the DeWitt cemetery.

Col. Thomas Lee was born Dec. 20, 1774, in Hudson, N.Y. He came to DeWitt at a relatively early date but no information concerning his life here has been confirmed. His wife's maiden name was Asenath Wilants and they had at least one son, George W. Lee. Col. Lee died at DeWitt, Dec. 2, 1852, and is buried in the DeWitt cemetery.

Barna Allen (also record as Burma or Barney Allen) was born in Washington Co., N.Y., Nov. 12, 1786 (?). He settled south and west of DeWitt in 1837 and was among the earliest members of the DeWitt Baptist Church in 1842. He died March 4, 1847, and is buried in the DeWitt cemetery beside his wife, Beissey (Heath) Allen who died in 1841. Their son George W. Allen became a prominent settler of section 19, this township.

The tombstone of Enos Silsbe in the DeWitt cemetery has been engraved (at a later date) "PVT. N.Y. Militia, War of 1812." He died Nov. 7, 1845, at the age of 48. He is buried with his wife, Abigail, and two daughters who died at an early age. Other than these facts, nothing further is known.

David Olin Sr. came to DeWitt at an early date, reportedly in 1837. His name is frequently mentioned in the early histories of this area but as he had a son by the same name it is nearly impossible to distinguish who is being credited. David Sr. is credited with building the Baptist Meeting House on north Bridge street and one of the early schools at Gunnison's corners. He is also listed among the early owners of DeWitt's Clinton House hotel. He died here on August 25, 1857, at the age of 62, and is buried in the DeWitt cemetery.

Henry Chappell (also spelled Chappel) is believed to have been an early settler south and west of DeWitt. He died here on May 29, 1861, at the age of 72 and was originally buried in the former Goodrich cemetery on Schavey road. His grave, along with several others, was removed to the DeWitt cemetery at a later date.

James Stickles, an early settler of southern DeWitt township, died August 26, 1876, at the age of 79. He is said to have been buried in the Hurd cemetery beside his wife Lucy.

Daniel Ferguson Jr. (1794-1864) is believed to have come to the DeWitt settlement in 1834 along with his father, Daniel Sr., and several brothers. Most of this large family, including Daniel Jr., eventually settled in Olive township near Muskrat Lake. Specific references to him are confusing due to he and his father having the same name. He was probably buried in either the Alward or Merribew cemeteries, though no connection to either has been located.

Dr. Hiram Stowell (whose veteran status has not yet been firmly established) was a native of Cayuga Co.,

N.Y. He and his family came to DeWitt in 1837 and settled on the Looking Glass river, several miles upriver from the Scott settlement. He was elected Clinton county's first Judge of Probate in 1839 and afterwards came to the village of DeWitt where he built an impressive home on the northeast corner of Main and Franklin. He died here on August 25, 1857, at the age of 62 and was buried in the DeWitt cemetery.

According to records of the Daughters of 1812, Porter Briggs is said to have lived in the DeWitt area but this has not been confirmed by local records. It is possible that he was connected with the later Briggs family of southern DeWitt township.
