STATE ACHIEVEMENT AWARD: DeWitt Council 7237, Knights of Columbus, is justifiably proud of the State Achievement Award for Youth, which it received at the K. of C. state convention held May 21-23 at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island. The state award recognized DeWitt's program of assistance to Special Days Camp for children with cancer.

Assisted by other knights and their wives, Bob Moody has chaired the Special Days local effort and developed it over the past six years. This spring, Moody and Joe Ciaramella sold advertising to business and professional people for a special program book, which combined with the dinner proceeds, resulted in a $5300 donation to the camp.

With more than 250 K. of C. councils in Michigan, the DeWitt group were surprised and pleased to receive the special award. Grand Knight John Fritsch accepted the plaque (which will hang in the vestibule of St. Jude church) on behalf of the DeWitt Council. For the seventh consecutive year, DeWitt Council also received the prestigious State Council Award for Overall Activities, which represented another plum for the fledgling council.

Fritsch, his wife Faith; George and Jan Mallison and St. Jude pastor, Fr. David Stotenbur, attended the state convention, spending a sunless, chilly three days on the island.

Airport Hearing Set for June 10

East Lansing consultant Douglas Uptegraft told Circuit Court that federal rules do not require Capital Regional Airport Authority to acquire the centennial farm in DeWitt Township owned by Dean and Bertha Crane. Uptegraft said the farm has no buildings or trees violating Federal Aviation Administration rules.

The airport authority had begun condemnation proceedings for 139 acres of the 240-acre farm at the corner of Dewitt and State roads, citing need for maintenance of an obstruction-free area under the approach to a runway it built several years ago. Uptegraft said the runway is a general utility type, used only by small planes.

Clinton Circuit Court Judge Randy Tahvonen will continue the hearing Wednesday, June 10, at the Ithaca courthouse.

FOUR VIE FOR SINGLE SCHOOL BOARD POST

Four well-qualified candidates are competing for the one vacant position on the DeWitt Board of Education in the coming election on Monday, June 8. The candidates and their qualifications are:

CLAYTON E. PARKER

Clay Parker, who has lived in DeWitt for 18 years, believes that his business experience will bring to the board "a sense of the needs of the community and a business approach to our needs with a firm desire to bring a balance between community needs and available financing."

School district committees on which Parker has served include Building and Improvement Expansion, Vocational Education, and he is presently on the Community Education Council.

Parker has served Watertown Township as deputy township treasurer for two years and been a member of the Sewer Appeals Board. He is a resource leader for the Clinton County Intermediate School District, and instructor for the Michigan State 4-H education program and Great Lakes Recreational Leaders Lab.

A Lansing native, Parker graduated from Lansing Eastern and attended Great Lakes Bible College and Lansing Community College. He and his wife Patricia will observe their 28th wedding anniversary this year. They have two daughters, Michelle and Melinda, both graduates of DeWitt High School, and one granddaughter.

THOMAS RIPPY

Tom Rippy and his family moved to DeWitt four years ago because of its small town atmosphere and the school district's reputation for quality teaching and facilities. He holds multiple degrees, including a minor in Secondary Education and has done substitute teaching. Presently, he supervises the education, compliance, and investigation activities in Michigan for an agency of the U.S.

As a school board member, he would like to see completion of the bond projects swiftly and within the budget constraints, basic education strengthened at all levels, gifted and talented students identified and helped at the lower elementary levels.

TERRIE STEVENS

Dr. Terrie Stevens, a member of the DeWitt community for 10 years, lives with her husband, Pete, and their son, Sean. Stevens has a PhD in Higher Education Administration, a Masters in College Student Personnel and a Bachelor's Degree in Mathematics.

She was a high school teacher for 4½ years and for 8 years, assistant and then associate director of the MSU admissions office. One of her major MSU responsibilities was to visit high school students and their counselors to discuss high school requirements for college admission.

Currently wage and salary administrator for the Lansing Board of Water and Light, she previously held the position of education/training and employment administrator at BWL.

"I want to help make the policy decisions," Stevens says, "which can assure the continued quality of our educational system and make it even better."

JOHN P. STONE

John Stone has been budget director for the Michigan Department of State for the past 18 years. He earned his Bachelor of Science in Applied Arts at Central Michigan University. He and his wife, Genie, have three sons, Thomas, Robert, and T.J.; they have been DeWitt residents for 19 years.

Stone is treasurer of the DeWitt Schools Booster Club and awards chairman of Cub Scout Pack 277. He has been a member of two previous millage committees and the recent "It's for Kids" committee.

Microwave Summer Dishes

As the days get warmer many families look for creative ways to prepare a meal without heating up the kitchen with a hot oven. One excellent way is to use your microwave oven. With a little experimentation you will find that whole meals can be prepared in your microwave.

Probably meats and main dishes will be the biggest challenge if you are not used to cooking in your microwave. Meat cookery calls for the most "new thinking", in terms of preparation and handling as compared to other food products.

Keep the following tips in mind in order to turn out a tender, attractive main dish every time!

1. Cooking time will depend on the starting temperature of the food. All meats should be completely defrosted for best results.
2. Do not salt

starting temperature of the food. All meats should be completely defrosted for best results. 2. Do not salt meats until after cooking. 3. Small, tender cuts of meat may not have a chance to brown in the microwave. Try an attractive coating such as cheese sauce, french-fried onion rings or cream of vegetable soup.

4. Large, less tender cuts of meat will require less powerful cooking temperatures for longer periods of time, than tender cuts. It helps to put these cuts in a cooking bag or cover tightly with some liquid in the bottom of the pan. It may also improve the taste/appearance of the product if you brush the meat lightly with melted butter or a browning sauce.

5. Learn to recognize the meat when it's almost done. Remember, microwave-cooked products continue to cook after coming out of the oven.

DEWITT HISTORY VIDEOTAPED: The nine members of DeWitt Girl Scout Troop 48 did some research on the history of DeWitt this spring (they found local historian Ken Coin's books to be most helpful!) and then prepared a videotape of their material.

Each of the girls researched one particular topic; then, with the assistance of co-leaders Debbie Christensen and Sue Kemler, they visited such historic sites as the Looking Glass River, near which DeWitt's founder, Captain David Scott, built his home, and DeWitt Cemetery, where pioneer graves are located.

Hopefully, it will be shown on Channel 29 as soon as the DeWitt Cable Committee lines up its regular programming.

By preparing the videotape, the DeWitt scouts earned a special patch, sponsored jointly this year by the Michigan Sesqui-

Clinton County residents are being offered a unique opportunity this summer. As a fund-raising promotion for Artrain, people will be able to "buy" railroad track space at $10 per foot. For this $10 donation, residents will also receive a one year membership in the Clinton County Arts Council.

Artrain consists of five railroad cars and takes over 400 feet of track space. The goal of the CCAC is to raise $4,000 by July 4. According to Strahle, "We would love to go over our goal, as this is our major fundraiser for the year. Excess funds will be used for other art projects in the county."

Area residents should expect to receive letters within the next couple of weeks, with a pledge

Proposed Building Plan Draws Capacity Crowd

Update: Architects' preferred site for a maintenance facility/bus garage, shown at a June 11 meeting at Griswold Administration Building, was south of DeWitt Middle School parking lot, cutting into the nature center woods. Middle School teachers voiced sincere concern at that time about traffic dangers/added congestion and disturbing the woodlot's ecological system.

Since the school board had approved the plan, another meeting was called for June 16, at which Wakeley Associates were to suggest other viable locations for the bus facility. On Tuesday, a capacity crowd, composed of school personnel, parents, and concerned citizens, some 50 or more people, showed up for the meeting.

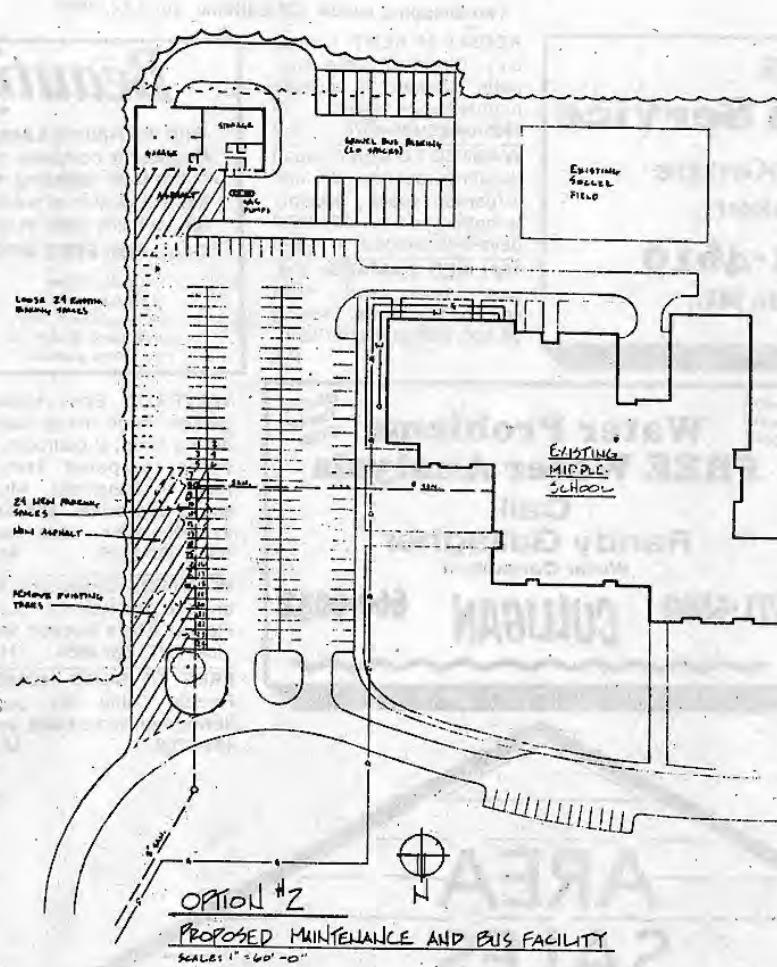

Architects presented four options with drawings of each and listed advantages/disadvantages of each site. Board president Glenn Tarrant first asked for board comments and then remarks from the audience. He also entered several letters from citizens into the meeting records.

Most of the audience comment was directed against the planned invasion of the Middle School woods. Leila Whitinger presented a petition against that option, signed by some 35 teachers and residents. Don Sasse voiced concern for the safety factors of added bus traffic in the area as well as the environmental impact.

Larry Arbanas pointed out that a forest is a "fragile thing", the ripple effect from building into the woods "which is a very valuable part of our school system ... some of those trees were saplings during the Civil War .. they can never be replaced." Others addressing the board included Jan Brown, Bob Masacek, Jan Everett, Tom Zielaskowski, and Tom Rippy.

Architectural site choices were

1. The Middle school site already mentioned which would provide a separate graveled bus lane, cut 40x220 feet into the woods, give easy access to both Herhison and point from the property would hamper drivers' view of oncoming traffic because of the way the road peaks nearby.

3. The Wilson Street location where the buses currently park near Scott School offers sufficient room. Griswold Administration Building is to be removed to allow additional parking area for Scott School students.

2. A corner of the DeWitt Road acreage on which new elementary school is to be built. This would again keep buses near elementary students, be more expensive because no well or utilities are there. 4. Just off Schavey Road where either of the ball diamonds is located. The northern site would allow access either from Schavey or the service drive. The road has less traffic than DeWitt Road; a well would be needed but power and sewer are already nearby.

During the discussion, questions were asked about setting the bus facility back farther into school property from Schavey Road or in the scrub wooded area south of the ball diamond. Board member Bill Schaar moved that the architects study various options available at the Schavey Road site and report back as soon as possible. Board members agreed to the proposal.

Nature Notes

Wildlife orphans are commonly found at this time of the year. Individuals finding the young animals assume they are lost or in need of help. Generally this is not the case, and most wild babies are best left where they are found as the mother, although not seen, is generally nearby.

A call to the local department of Natural Resources conservation officer is appropriate before taking a wild animal home, as most species are protected and it is illegal to pick them up. This is to protect people from trauma and possible disease exposure from human harassment. The conservation officer may have suggestions regarding the animal in need of help or know someone who is licensed to raise and rehabilitate wild babies.

For further information or assistance, contact your DNR conservation officer, Rose Lake Wildlife Disease Lab, 373-9358, or the Wildlife Rehabilitation Center in the MSU College of Veterinary Medicine, 353-5420.

The June 25 building plan meeting with Wakeley Associates was cancelled last week. Instead, board members added it to their regular July organizational meeting, setting that for Tuesday, July 7, at 7 p.m. - not Monday, in deference to the July 4 weekend.

The agenda will be full that night, including regular business, election of new officers, and the report from Wakeley Associates architects on alternate Schavey Road building sites for the proposed bus garage and maintenance facility.

Architects have already shown plans for four possible sites - 1) DeWitt Middle School parking lot and nature woods; 2) DeWitt Road property where new elementary school is to be built; 3) Wilson Street location where buses currently park, and 4) Schavey Road where either ball diamond is now located.

Vacations and other family outings are usually fun times, with the whole family relaxing. Occasionally however, such family outings can be a test of patience and endurance.

This is especially true when it is a hot sticky day and the children have been cooped up in the car for hours. At times like that it's helpful to have a few quiet games that will distract the children. Here are a few activities you might try the next time your family outing has turned into a fighting match.
