MONUMENTAL TRIBUTE: The DeWitt Memorial Association will mark its 40th anniversary by erecting a monument to commemorate men and women from this area who were killed during wartime service to their country.

A highlight of the 40th annual Ox Roast next August will be the afternoon ceremony dedicating a commemorative plaque set in a huge rock, which will be placed at the base of the flagpole in front of the Memorial Building on W. Washington St.

Project leader and association president Paul Kleeman is asking that residents turn in the names of service personnel who were killed in action while serving in the various military branches.

Names of the following DeWitt casualties from the two World Wars, Korea and Vietnam are already on the list to be inscribed on the plaque: Elmer Witt, Olin Tufford, Charles Magsig, Lawrence Ward, William Shipley, Richard Pike, James Peltier, John Ruiz, Michael Wilcox, Francis Richmond, Lewis Phillips, Russell Ribby, Earl Benson, Don Ingalls and Vincent Lerg.

If you have the name of a serviceman or woman, which should be on the monument, call the Association number, 669-9602.

PRESCHOOL ROUND-UP: In preparation for its coming move back to DeWitt proper, DeWitt Cooperative Preschool will hold a pre-registration and information meeting Thursday, March 6, from 7 to 8 p.m. at the preschool's current location, 768 Wieland Rd.

Parents are invited to visit the school and meet teacher Stephanie Knapp, but not necessarily to register at this time. Openings are available, however, for three, four and five-year-olds for the 1986-87 school year. Call Pat Molitor, 669-5654, for information.

A parent meeting will be held Wednesday, March 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the DeWitt Memorial Building. Teacher Stephanie Knapp will talk about kindergarten readiness on that evening.

NERDSVILLE: DeWitt Newcomers and Friends will put on their best (or worst?) bibs and tuckers Saturday, March 8, when they convene at DeWitt Memorial Building at 8 p.m. for their spring party.

Invitations say: "It is a Nerd Party, so dress accordingly." A DJ will provide music for dancing.

RETIREMENT?: Robert Pingston of DuCharme Dr. officially retired February 14 after 29 years with the Michigan State Police, but it was a short-lived retirement.

Dr. Shooks goes on to say that "it is a pleasure to teach when you are given students of his caliber with whom to work".

Volunteer board members serve zealously on the DeWitt Memorial Association, which has an interesting history. In October 1945, every DeWitt and DeWitt Township organization was invited to send two delegates to a meeting to discuss the possibility of a community building. The William Rogersons who had donated property on West Washington for a library, were agreeable to construction of a community building so long as plans included a library.

After agreeing to raise money toward this goal, the organization formed a non-profit group, the Memorial Association, to erect and maintain the building dedicated to the veterans of all wars.

The first ox roast was held in 1946 and it has since become an annual event to provide funds for the Memorial Building's operation and maintenance. DeWitt Memorial Building was opened for partial use for the 1947 ox roast and then dedicated at the 1948 roast.

The building now houses a modern library, meeting rooms on two levels plus a complete set of kitchen facilities for use by the public. Non-profit organizations have rent-free use of the Memorial Building in exchange for their group working on the ox roast.

Hence, the 1986 monument to service personnel is very much in keeping with the building and association traditions. Early ox roast organizers and past presidents of DeWitt Memorial Association will be invited to take part in the unveiling ceremony.

Sledding Hill Vetoed For Padgett Park

A sledding hill for township residents is apparently not in DeWitt Township's immediate future, trustees decided at Monday's meeting, as they declined a $9,000 grant from the State Department of Natural Resources which would have covered only a portion of the project's cost.

Voting 4-3 against accepting the state grant, applied for in 1984 to develop 80-acre Padgett Park east of Herbison Road, were Supervisor Frank Mann, Treasurer Catherine Reed and trustees Bruce Angell and Michael Verlinde.

Citing the park's remote location and the township's projected loss in state revenue sharing, trustees voiced fears that the area would be difficult to police and the planned winter sports area too expensive.

Three existing nature trails are the only embellishments currently shown in the 80-acre park on the master plan for which the township has already paid $2,300.

Trustees Angell, Verlinde, Doug Hammond and Charles Rademacher also voted against township participation in the Clinton County CAN-DO organization (Clinton Area New Development Organization). Estimated cost would have been $2,240 to join CAN-DO and a percentage of taxes from each business it persuaded to locate in the township.

In other action, trustees agreed to rezone a land parcel at the southwest corner of US-27 and Clark Road from agricultural to business commercial.

The Library of Nations series consists of beautiful, contemporary reference books, which will be of great assistance to DeWitt Middle School students, in particular, with their social studies projects and reports, Gerred explains.

The colorful volumes would interest everybody though, with their wealth of up-to-date information and current illustrations on nations around the world. The books can be checked out of the library.

portation to include the rerouting of U.S. 27 around St. Johns on its priority list.

Commissioners fear, according to chairman Roger Overway, that the state's current priority list includes only the bypass around St. John, and not an at-grade highway from I-69 in the southern part of the county to Kinley Road, two miles north of St. John.

The bypass alone, which would extend from Parks Road to Kinley Road, would cause congestion south of St. Johns, notably in the DeWitt area where some 30,000 cars use U.S. 27 daily, Overway stressed.

TOWNSHIP AWARDS: Clinton Wright of Eskes Ave. and Lois Fohl of Greenway Dr. were the surprised recipients of DeWitt Charter Township's Citizen of the Year and Volunteer of the Year awards preceding Wednesday's nutrition luncheon at the township hall.

Township Supervisor Frank Mann, clerk Greg Whitlock, treasurer Catherine Reed and trustee Bruce Angell officially presented the certificates of appreciation.

Wright was selected as Citizen of the Year for "giving so much happiness" to others during his 33 years of acting as Santa Claus at various functions.

Fohl received the Volunteer of the Year award for the many hours she has devoted to genealogical work for the county and township.

Wright began his Santa Claus chores when his daughter was in kindergarten at Sheridan Road School and he responded to the PTA board's plea for a Santa. During the intervening years he has "Santa-ed" his way through 33 Christmas seasons appearing at the Eagle's lodge, Gunnisonville United Methodist Church, the VFW post on US 27, Girl and Boy Scout meetings and house parties.

At first, Wright borrowed a Santa suit from Knapps department store, then purchased his own outfit. He has been Santa at Sears, Lansing Mall and recently at Keller's Shopping Mall in Williamston.

"The kids I started out with now have kids of their own," he explains laughingly why he

GOLD STAR FOR PTA: "Today must be my lucky day. I've been winning at everything," one little boy excitedly told PTA president Denise Baird, as he made the rounds of games at the March 1 carnival.

"That was the kind of day it was," Denise remarked, while she expressed wonderment at the carnival's overwhelming success.

Children of all ages, accompanied by parents and grandparents, thronged the halls of Scott School for the PTA's first carnival, the Disneyland Review. Parents and teachers worked side by side, selling tickets, running the games in classrooms and operating the cafeteria snack bar, during the 4-hour event.

Fifteen hundred people is probably a low estimate of the carnival attendance, since 1,450 went through the cake walk alone. More than 100 cakes and 900 cookies were donated and over 400 hot dogs were sold.

DeWitt Elementary PTA raised at least $1,500, Baird said, thanks to the cooperation of many hardworking parents and teachers.

TOOTSIE ROLL ODE: Retarded citizens will benefit again this year, as Council 7237, DeWitt Knights of Columbus, join fellow members around the state in the annual Tootsie Roll Drive.

DeWitt K of C members will be selling the familiar tootsie rolls in downtown DeWitt, as well as at DeWitt Shop-Rite and Eberhard stores. Larry Foy is this year's local chairman. Drive dates will be Friday, March 21, and Saturday, March 22.

Eighty percent of the money collected stays local, assisting retarded citizens in this area, according to Council Grand Knight John Fritsch.

CITY COUNCIL NOTES

Citing safety reasons, city council again rejected preliminary plat plans for Jason Estates subdivision, which Wayne Baum of Schavey Road proposed to locate at the north end of Sandhill Drive.

The City Planning Commission had recommended denying the plat request last October when it first came before the council. Police and fire officials had pointed out the circuitous route (via Schavey Road to Waxwing Drive and then to Sandhill Drive), which emergency vehicles would have to take in order to reach the proposed cul de sac.

Council approved the city's application for state and federal assistance from the Critical Bridge Fund to help with the extra cost incurred when the DeWitt Bridge Street bridge was shown to be damaged following new construction.

The city of DeWitt will join CAN-DO (Clinton Area New Development Organization, which is replacing the county's Economic Development Corp. formed a decade ago), following minor changes in the contractual agreement with CAN-DO. Aim of the new organization, according to Clinton County board chairman Roger Overway, will be to entice new business and industrial growth into the county.

Austin Knapp, DeWitt Building Authority chairman, told council that he will bring three recommendations to the next meeting regarding plans for the proposed city hall expansion. DBA's hopes were dashed in recent months when bids for the construction came in far above architectural estimates.

Mayor Lynn Thayer appointed realtor Gary Newcombe to the Downtown Development Authority, replacing Dr. Duane Wisk, who had submitted his resignation.

In other action, council approved a Physicians Health Plan Agreement for city employees, providing a termination clause is inserted, and okayed renewal of a cabaret license for the DeWitt Bar.

Class Will Decide - Homemade or Mix?

...he has been Santa at Sears, Lansing Mall and recently at Keller's Shopping Mall in Williamston.

"The kids I started out with now have kids of their own," he explains laughingly why he continues to answer Santa requests.

Wright keeps talking of giving up his Santa role, but he says, "I can't stand to see grown people cry, so I keep on doing it."

Four years ago, he retired from his job as a data coding machine operator with the state Department of Social Services. His wife Lorraine, who sometimes wore her Mrs. Claus outfit for the children's parties, retired from Michigan State University's housing department just last Tuesday. The couple have three daughters, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

With both Wrights retired, Florida seems to beckon for the winter months of 1986-87. But Wright will pack his Santa suit even if they head south, "because people there will want Santa too."

Lois Fohl is sharing the volunteer award with her husband Earl, who helps a great deal with the library work. She indexes and the alphabetizes Clinton County genealogical materials that have never been indexed and Earl types the information onto cards for her.

"He typed 55 hours in December and January," she recalls, "and 56 in February."

The couple moved back to Lansing only about 1½ years ago, settling in DeWitt Township. They retired in 1965 - she from Michigan State Library, where she had worked in history and genealogy - and he as a statistician from the State Highway Department - moving to a 22 acre farm in southern Pennsylvania.

Their return to this area has brought them closer to their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. J.R. Hoesman, and two grandchildren. It has also been a boon to Green Thumb Librarian Wilma Soule, whose work Lois oversees, and to all those who use the genealogical resources of DeWitt Charter Township.

Don't knock the weather. If it didn't change once in a while, nine out of ten people couldn't start a conversation.

Eighty percent of the money collected stays local, assisting retarded citizens in this area, according to Council Grand Knight John Fritsch. Groups which benefit include the Clinton County Intermediate School District, Clinton County 4-H Horesback Riding for the Handicapped program and the Special Olympics.

"This annual drive is an excellent opportunity for Michigan citizens to join with one another in assisting our neighbors and friends stricken with mental retardation," Gov. Blanchard says in an executive declaration observing March 21 - 26 as "Knights of Columbus Helping Persons with Mental Retardation Days."

"Each year," the declaration continues, "the Michigan State Council of the Knight of Columbus works intensely to solicit contributions from Michigan citizens to support programs and efforts which assist our state's 258,000 citizens who are mentally retarded."

The state council sponsors the Citizens Advocacy Service of the Michigan Association for Retarded Citizens. Knights provide ongoing support for schools, workshops and other local programs for the mentally retarded.

More than 10,000 solicitors across the state participated in the K of C's 1985 weekend drive, grossing more than $1 million.

Class Will Decide - Homemade or Mix?

It is so much easier to just pick up a box-mix then to make baked good from scratch. Are these convenience mixes really that much more expensive then homemade? What about nutrition and taste? Should I be concerned about all those additives in convenience foods?

These are all questions that need to be answered before you can make wise choices in the grocery store. Beginning March 12 from 1:30-3:00 the Cooperative Extension Service will be presenting a three week series on tips for wise food shopping. All of the classes will be held on Wednesday afternoons at Smith Hall in St. Johns. The series will include many tips on how to get the most nutrition for your food dollar. Several nutritious low-cost recipes will be demonstrated at the classes.

The registration fee for all three weeks is just $2.00. Pre-registration is required. To register contact the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service at 224-3288 by March 10.

Religious Art is March Feature

The Clinton County Arts Council Gallery & Gift Shop will feature an exhibit of Religious Art during the month of March in conjunction with the Easter season. A demonstration of Ukrainian Egg Decorating highlighted the Sunday reception for artists featured in the exhibit.

The Clinton County Arts Council will sponsor a stained-glass workshop on Saturday, April 19 from 9 to 5 p.m., for beginning students. Cost is $35 including all materials for a completed mobile. A minimum of 5 students is required.

Please pre-register at the Gallery by paying $10, balance due the day of the class. The workshop will be conducted by personnel from Delphi Stores in Lansing, and held at the C.C.A.C. Gallery & Gift Shop. Stained-glass items will be a featured medium at the Gallery during the month of April.

Conventions are something a lot of people leave behind when they attend one.

PTA CARNIVAL OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

Gaily decorated classrooms were crowded with parents and children taking part in or waiting for the various carnival games. Preschool and elementary school youngsters stood patiently on the squares awaiting music to begin for this round of the Cookie Walk.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE STALLED

The DeWitt Public Schools' Board of Education is still seeking agreement on the terms of a new contract with the district's bus drivers, clerical, custodial, aides, and cafeteria employees. The group is represented by the Michigan Educational Support Personnel (MESPA).

In late January, a factfinder, appointed by the State of Michigan at the request of the union, issued a written report recommending settlement of the disputed issues at a projected new dollar cost to the district of 7.7% for the 1985-86 fiscal year. The factfinder's recommendation included a 4.5% salary increase each year of a three year contract. The recommendation of the factfinder was accepted by the Board of Education.

Negotiations broke off in late February following the Union's rejection of the factfinder's recommendations and issuance of a new proposal projected to cost the Board of Education 13.27% in the first year of a proposed three year settlement. No further bar-

HERE 'N THERE: Steve and Rene Widman are soaking up the rays in Pensacola, FL, and getting used to military life.

Their parents, Harry and Nell Widman, now of Lansing, and Roger and Ruth Pline of Tucker Dr., spent a busy December traveling to Ann Arbor, attending first the couple's graduation from the University of Michigan and then Steve's commissioning as an ensign in the U.S. Navy.

Steve, a 1979 DeWitt High School graduate, received his bachelor of arts in communications. Rene, who was a member of the 1982 DHS class, earned her bachelor of arts degree in English, specializing in American literature.

The pair drove south earlier this month to get settled near Elgin Air Force Base, where Ens. Widman has been assigned. He is attending aviation school and continuing his education in the communications field.

Rosalie Ankney, Madison St., reports that her son and daughter-in-law, Chris and Shari Ankney, have just returned from a bonus trip to Hawaii.

Chris received the all-expense-paid vacation as a special award, after being named one of his company's top three paint specialists in the United States. He has been a sales representative for the Safety Kleen Corp. for 18 months...and obviously does one whale of a job!

TAKE A BOW: DeWitt High School has had more than its share of the spotlight in recent weeks, as state honors were being handed out.

The DeWitt Board of Education at its March 10 meeting adopted a special resolution honoring Kevin Boyd, who was named a National Merit Scholarship finalist. They also extended special congratulations to the top ten DHS academic students, the Quiz Bowl team which took second place in final state competition at Alma, and the following:

Wrestling: Senior Dan Ebright, who became Class C state champion in the 198 pound weight division; Randy Smith, named State Class C Wrestling Coach of the Year; the wrestling team which placed fifth in the state.

Swimming: The boys' swimming team which took sixth place in state B-CD swim competition; sophomore Steve Shipps, who was named state B-CD Swimmer of the Year.

DeWitt's Quiz Bowl team emerged as runner-up in the state CD finals held March 8 at Alma College. DeWitt bested Saginaw Valley Lutheran 220-110 in the first round, according to coach Frank Deak, and won the second round 360-85 over Akron-Fairgrove. In a close third round, Vandercook Lake won first place by a 185-140 score.

The DeWitt team received a $6,000 scholarship to Alma College for its second place finish. Team member Kevin O'Shaughnessey will utilize the scholarship to major in pre-dentistry at Alma.

DHS team members sharing the Quiz Bowl limelight were Kevin Boyd, Rob Gillespie, Chris Heightchew, Steve Pingston and Matt Williams.

This is DeWitt's second brush with glory; the 1981 Quiz Bowl team were state champions.

Whereas the DeWitt Board of Education recognizes the importance of skill in reading to the economic and cultural welfare of our local and world communities, and further recognizes that to develop fluency in reading, children must perceive it as an enjoyable and engaging activity worth repeated practice;

We hereby declare March as Reading Month throughout the DeWitt School District. It is our hope to accent and encourage creative reading-related activities both new and continuing throughout our curriculum.

EASTER EGG HUNT: DeWitt's Downtown Development Authority is sponsoring its first annual Easter Egg Hunt next Saturday morning - March 29 - from 10 to 11 a.m. - in the 100 block of West Main Street in downtown DeWitt.

DeWitt Newcomers and Friends will help to coordinate the hunt. The Easter Bunny himself and several clowns will be on hand to lend further color and assistance.

The young hunters will divide into two age groups. Youngsters six years old and younger will hunt for eggs on the south side of Main Street, while 7 to 12-year-olds will comb the north side of the street. Traffic will be detoured around the 100 block during the event.

Each downtown business has been asked to provide a dozen colored eggs (preferably hard-boiled!) for the EE hunt. Special plastic eggs will each contain an extra bonus: MERCHANTS GIFT CERTIFICATES.

GALLANT GESTURE: The rise in coffee prices hit the Tri-County Office on Aging in its pocket-book, so that they are no longer able to furnish coffee with the weekly senior citizen nutrition luncheon program.

SELECT TRAVEL WINNERS

The DeWitt Evening Lions Club, board of directors, met at the home of ticket chairman Gary Gillespie to summarize their travel raffle sale on March 13.

DeWitt Mayor Lynn Thayer, right, drew winning names from the box held by Lions Club president Bab Fawcett.

Mayor Lynn Thayer drew the three finalists' tickets. Paul J. Blankenship, W. River Dr.; Thomas H. Brockway, W. Waxwing Dr. and Ivan J. Volkers, E. Geneva Dr. were the lucky trio.

Prizes were determined at the conclusion of the Club's Ladies Night Program, on Tuesday, March 18. Lion Secretary Robert VanderMark provided a bottle game containing numbered balls. Each finalist selected a numbered ball; then the one with the highest number made his selection from the three plain envelopes.

First prize was drawn by Blankenship, to the Bahamas, 7 nights with

City Hall Expansion Approved

DeWitt's city hall project got the green light again Monday night, when the DeWitt Building Authority presented plans for a 5,400 square foot expansion to cost under $300,000. Council accepted the new alternative plan which eliminates a basement and cuts expenses in various other ways.

The contractor, K&D Construction of Williamston, now hopes to break ground in late April or early May, DBA chairman Austin Knapp said.

The original $267,000 estimate for city hall expansion involved remodeling the current building's 2,400 square feet and adding another 2,400 feet. That was before DBA members and the architect sat down with city hall staff, Knapp pointed out, to discuss minimal space requirements for the various departments, which are now tightly crammed into the small structure and lack adequate storage facilities.

Cost cuts in the latest plan include changing from hot water heating system to forced air, luncheon program.

No sooner had coordinator Pat DeYoung made that announcement at the Tuesday luncheon at St. Jude Church than Moose Lodge 2291 on North U.S. 27 came to the rescue. When member Russ Portt brought the matter to their attention, they presented the DeWitt luncheon program with a check for $200. That will provide coffee for many, many moons ahead at the nutrition luncheons, Pat says gratefully.

Coordinator DeYoung would also like to extend a special invitation to all area seniors (that's age 60 and up, folks) to attend the luncheons. It has come to her attention that some seniors are staying away because they mistakenly think the nutrition lunch program is based on low income.

"NOT SO!" Pat says with emphasis. All area residents are welcome to come and share in the food and fun. Bingo and cards usually follow the luncheons, unless other special entertainment or programs take precedence.

And if one spouse is 60 and the other is 16 both can attend the nutrition meals for the nominal price of $1 per person. Age is no barrier.

Regular nutrition luncheons are held at St. Jude each Tuesday and the first Thursday of the month at 12 noon. In addition, there is a monthly potluck luncheon at noon on the third Thursday of the month.

Council Meets In DeWitt

The March meeting of the Clinton County Arts Council will be held on Wednesday, March 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the DeWitt Conservatory of Dance and Music.

The change of date applies to the March meeting only, and is being made due to conflict with classes being held on the usual meeting night. The February meeting also scheduled to be held in DeWitt was cancelled due to a snowstorm.

Arts Council members as well as board of directors are encouraged to attend and bring a friend. The public is welcome.

A newspaper organized a contest for the best answer to the question, "If a fire broke out in the Louvre, and you could only save one painting, which one would you carry out?"

The winning reply was: "The one nearest the exit."

Cost cuts in the latest plan include changing from hot water heating system to forced air, using drywall construction instead of veneer plaster, and eliminating blacktop surfacing and concrete curbs/gutters around the expanded building.

The Junior Olympics Meet is sponsored by McDonald's Restaurants, and offers statewide season finale competition for all swimmers who have achieved "A" or "B" times during their regular season. This year's meet had 695 swimmers.

Kelly is the daughter of Dick and Chris Peacock of Howe Road. She has many interests in addition to swimming, her favorites being gymnastics, softball, basketball, and water-

CANADA-BOUND

Toronto was the week-end destination of 24 DeWitt High School juniors and seniors, who boarded two vans March 14 for their three-day National Honor Society trip.

NHS advisor Mark Servis and his brother Rob piloted the vans and pulled a luggage trailer behind. English instructor Penny Rypstra and Barbara Brown, home economics teacher, also accompanied the students.

CITY COUNCIL NOTES

DeWitt City Council members authorized Mayor Lynn Thayer to confer again with DeWitt Township officials regarding the city's plan to hook into the township water system in preference to building its own water tower.

The township board had unanimously rejected DeWitt's first proposal, which projected 60 percent city ownership of the water tank, based on estimates that city residents would be using that percentage of the water.

Council gave final approval to joining CAN-DO (Clinton Area New Development Organization), since minor changes they requested had been made in the contract.

A brief note was read from the Mt. Pleasant regional center for Tri-County Community Mental Health, notifying the city that CMH's request to build two homes for developmentally disabled adults in DeWitt had been withdrawn.

The two-year police department contract that had expired July 1, 1985, was renewed to provide personnel with 5 percent increases in 1985-86 and 4 percent in 1986-87. The measure is retroactive to last July. Starting pay for officers, $16,500 last year, will go to $17,500 next July 1.

Approved on first reading were a firearms ordinance, regulating weapons' use inside the city limits, and a new zoning ordinance to replace the current outdated one. A gas detector, requested by the Department of Labor as a safety factor, is to be purchased for inspector Ken Kelly's sewer inspections.

Council accepted a $4,299 bid from Central Michigan Lumber, St. Johns, for a new fire station roof. It was suggested that a front end loader, requested by the Department of Public Works, be purchased from federal government surplus, if possible.

TURKEY SEMINAR??? When you mention that your husband is spending an entire Saturday attending an MSU turkey seminar, the conversational response possibilities are endless. Most of them begin with "WHAT???"

Prominent others are: "Doesn't he know what a turkey looks like?" - "Is he in his right mind?" - "You're kidding!" - and, last but not least, "Has Dad finally flipped his lid?"

From the seminar literature he brought home, I did learn some really interesting facts, though. Wild turkey flocks numbered in the millions when the first settlers came to Plymouth Rock. Continued use of the birds for food did not harm the turkey population to the degree that clearing forested lands for agriculture did, eventually leading to the extermination of wild turkey flocks from their natural range north of the Ohio River and from most areas in the South and East.

By 1900 it was assumed that the wild turkey was extinct in Michigan. However, in the early 20th century, conservation agencies began to reverse that trend. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Division was prominent in these efforts, restoring the birds and expanding their range by trapping and transferring flocks to areas with suitable habitat.

(News Note: That Saturday program for the 10th annual Wild Turkey Hunters' Convention listed John Urbain of Schavey Road, DNR Upland Game Bird Specialist as one of the speakers.)

Turkeys are only hunted in the spring in Michigan, the literature from Michigan Wild

SCANDINAVIAN DUO: Anna Verneholt, Swedish exchange student in DeWitt High School's 12th grade this year, had an opportunity to chat with Geir Hoff, freshman forward on the MSU Spartan hockey team, after the March 22 regional playoff game against Boston College.

It was nice, Anna says, just exchanging views with someone from "home" about home-sickness, summer plans and life in the U.S. She estimates that her home south of Stockholm is probably 6 - 7 hours driving time from Oslo, Norway which is Hoff's native city.

What language did they communicate in? Anna spoke Swedish and Geir, Norwegian, but they were able to understand each other. Anna attended the hockey game with fellow senior Kim Harper, who arranged the visit through Danton Cole, freshman hockey team member from Lansing.

INSPIRING SPEAKER ENCOURAGES TEENS

Jim Tuman, former counselor to Vietnam veterans and now a full-time motivational speaker, addressed DeWitt High School students and teachers at their March 21 assembly and left a lasting impression.

Tuman, 44, of Canton, speaks at more than 100 high schools a year, exhorting teen-agers to believe in their own self-worth and share their feelings with others. Tuman's visit was arranged by principal Fred Goers who had heard about his rousing talks promoting self-esteem.

Tuman who has a bachelor's degree in sociology from Michigan State University and a master's degree from Columbia University, interacts with his audience, asking questions and inviting them to share his dialogue. Instead of ending at the prescribed time, the DeWitt assembly period continued on through lunch hour and the afternoon, with young people enthusiastically joining in the exchange of ideas and feelings.

Teachers' reactions ranged the gamut from "It was amazing" ... "unbelievable" ... "emotionally draining" ... to "most of us will be prone to think twice before we say something, to stop and think what effect we may have on someone else." Some were amazed at the amount of bottled-up emotions which were released; other remarks included "it's hard to believe the pain generated by the way we treat each other" and "you don't realize how many peoples' lives you may have in your hands."

DHS junior Penny Stampfly was kind enough to provide the following student's capsule view of the unusual assembly.

A Unique Experience

By Penny Stampfly

It was a day unlike any other. A day when we sat before each other with our masks removed and our protective barriers torn down, revealing our innermost selves to one another. Now, looking back, the memory is foggy, like a dream, but the unity we feel for each other is a reminder of that day's reality. The thoughts we hold of the Game Bird Specialist as one of the speakers.)

Turkeys are only hunted in the spring in Michigan, the literature from Michigan Wild Turkey Federation continues, since spring gobbler hunting has no impact on the turkey population's future growth. Hunters wear complete camouflage clothing and sit completely motionless for as long as several hours to fool the wily toms.

Success rates, it says, are only 9% in Northern Michigan - which is where he'll be hunting - so perhaps our freezer will boast a Butterball, after all.

Must note in passing that I raced into the bedroom early Sunday morning when I heard a horrible, gurgling noise, thinking that Wally surely was in the throes of a coronary attack. No such thing - he was merely practicing on the diaphragm turkey caller he had purchased at the turkey seminar! The idea, it appears, is to sound like a hen turkey and lure the crafty gobbler to your vicinity.

The booklet also says that the native wild turkey is a bird of the forest, which prefers to stay up high in the trees, and is a lot smarter than most of the hunters. That figures.

WARMER CLIMES: Carol Platte, accompanied by Denise, Keith and Jeffrey, grabbed an opportunity to spend a week in Florida this month, while her husband Paul and son Kevin kept the home fires burning on Herbison Road. They flew with Carol's brother, Jim Parker of Holt in his plane to Panama City, FL, where they visited their parents, Frank and Muriel Parker. The senior Parkers then drove back to Lansing in time for Easter, while Carol, Jim and company battled airsickness on a rough flight home.

OVER THE TOP: The local Tootsie Roll Drive to aid the retarded exceeded goals of all past years, grossing $2,116, reports John Fritsch, Grand Knight of Council 7237, DeWitt Knights of Columbus. Beneficiaries will be the Special Olympics and Clinton County 4-H Horseback Riding for the Handicapped program.

Fritsch credits the drive's success to the generosity of DeWitt area people, the organization plan by chairman Larry Foy and the special effort of Joe Ciarmella in soliciting local business and professional people for contributions.

Total drive expenses were only $158 for the tootsie rolls, he explained, with 80% of the money obtained staying here and 20% going to the K of C state council for major statewide programs for the mentally handicapped.

Business/professional contributors included DeWitt Shop-Rite, Scott Lewis Heating, Old Country Caterers, the Hair Drop, J & J Video, King Mobile Homes, Dr. Faith Fritsch, DO, and Dr. William Schoonover, DDS.

In addition to the monetary contribution, Council 7237 members have also volunteered to be "huggers" for the Special Olympics.

our innermost selves to one another. Now, looking back, the memory is foggy, like a dream, but the unity we feel for each other is a reminder of that day's reality. The thoughts we hold of the day are those of awe and relief. Amazed at the fact we could share ourselves so totally without hesitation or regret, and relieved to have had this release of bottled emotions and anger.

Penny Stampfly

The lessons we learned are those of relations, feelings and of our own vulnerability. We have been confronted with the cruelty with which we treat one another, the pain that is caused by our cruelty, and the sometimes tragic consequences of it. We have learned of the depression and the desire to be loved that is tucked behind the masks which cover our personalities. Also, how the repression of these feelings may lead to thoughts of, and attempts at, suicide by people we care much about but are too afraid to open up to.

We found that people do not realize how much we need and love them. Thus we learned the necessity of expressing our true feelings and of showing others that we care, and the importance of not waiting to do so, for there is no guarantee we will see each other again. The awareness of our responsibility for one another's lives, and of how our simplest actions can greatly affect others for good or bad, was frightening.

Although some may not understand the closeness we felt that day, it is something we will remember because of its uniqueness and its warmth, and because we did not realize we were capable of feeling it. It was a day that was needed, a day long overdue. It helped us to grow and to understand those around us and ourselves better. We are now more aware that we all share one basic but essential need, the desire to be loved and accepted.

TOWNSHIP MINUTES

DeWitt Township trustees heard a request Monday night from Joyce Kennedy, business manager for DeWitt School District, that the township pay interest to the school district on school taxes collected last year.

The township made a counter proposal to continue charging their same rate - $2.60 per parcel - if the district would waive interest for 1985 and 1986.

Since DeWitt Township collects school taxes for seven school districts and disperses them to the seven units twice each month, Clerk Greg Whitlock said that trying to maintain a day-to-day record "would be a bookkeeping nightmare for us."

The township collects school taxes for DeWitt, Bath, Lansing, East Lansing, Clinton Intermediate, Ingham Intermediate and Lansing Community College districts.

Kennedy will take the township proposal back to DeWitt school board.

The township board also rescinded a special use permit for the Turner Street gravel pit, after hearing that oil-soaked wooden blocks had been found there. A DNR

9 Math Pupils Go To Regional

Nine DeWitt Middle School students, who had top scores in the local mathematics test, will go on to regional competition in the contest sponsored by the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Achieving highest scores on the test which math teacher Dave Darnell administered at DMS were: Grade 6, Derek Thurston, Kyle Crockett, Aren Andersen; Grade 7, Jon Borys, Jeff Shooks, Rob McConnell; Grade 8, Dean Shooltz, Rod Weston, Kary Kruger.

This is the first year that pupils have been allowed to use their calculators in what Darnell described as a "pretty rugged" multiple choice written test. These nine, again armed with calculators, will now go on to take the regional test at Lansing Community College Saturday, April 12. They will be facing competition from all other participating schools in southern Clinton and some from Ingham and Eaton county.

The top 25 finalists from the regional contest will then compete in the state test to be given at Central Michigan University in May.

Nominating petitions may be picked up at the school administration office on Wilson St. The deadline to file nominating petitions for the two vacancies is Monday, April 7, at 4 p.m.

Election date is Monday, June 9.

Street gravel pit, after hearing that oil-soaked wooden blocks had been found there. A DNR specialist who had inspected the site told trustees that they would check into the problem, because of concern that the oil would leak into the groundwater.

The gravel pit permit, which had been held by David Schlegel, was transferred to the Towner Road Development Co. of Haslett in December.

In other action, township trustees approved expenditures of $800 for building materials to build a concession stand at Valley Farms Park and $800 for softball equipment; $300 to purchase a brush cutter from the Deer Barn, Grand Ledge and $607.50 to buy a gas tank for diesel fuel for two new fire trucks which will be delivered soon.

Redeemer Observes Dedication Sunday

Sunday, March 23, was Dedication Sunday for church members. Bishop Judith Craig, Michigan area resident bishop of the United Methodist Church, presided at the dedication service and burning of the mortgage ceremony with Pastor Harry Johnson.

The antique bell taken out of storage for the occasion and pulled to the church on Herb and Wanda Ritter's wagon, had a place of honor just outside the north entrance. It was rung in unison with the bell atop the former frame church building, which still stands at the corner of Clark and Schavey Roads.

A historical booklet, prepared for the dedicatory service, traces present church history back to DeWitt Methodist Church built in DeWitt proper in 1896 and Emanuel Methodist Episcopal Church erected in 1872 at Clark and Schavey. Membership of the two churches merged in 1970; the present brick edifice was completed in 1977.
