Orla McGuire Named 1986 Citizen of the Year

Orla McGuire, city engineer for the "last 20 or 25 years" - since before DeWitt achieved city status in 1965 - has been selected as the 1986 Citizen of the Year. He will be the city's special guest on Monday, May 19, Government Day of Michigan Week, during the day-long Mayor's Exchange program.

City Engineer Orla McGuire

McGuire, who organized the City Planning Commission and served as its chairman for 22 years, has also been deputy building and zoning administrator in recent years. Wearing his various civic hats, he has donated countless hours attending city council, sewer and water committee and other local meetings. He served as chairman of the 1965 Charter Commission to make DeWitt a city.

Some years back, McGuire persuaded the city to establish Riverside Park, then an untamed piece of property, and got DeWitt Lions to help with its cleanup and development. He was pleasantly surprised a few years ago when the city named the new Main Street park "McGuire Park" in his honor.

The Iowa native and 1928 graduate of the University of Iowa came to Michigan as a district engineer for the State Health Department "Mu

Township Sets Cleanup Day

Watertown Charter Township residents are invited to participate in Township Cleanup Day on May 17th, according to Parks and Recreation Director Tony Sporer.

"In the past our 4-H group has picked up litter along major roadways and our Parks and Recreation Board has spruced up the parks, but this year we are expanding it to any Watertown Township businesses, subdivisions, community organizations or individuals who want to beautify their roadside or property", say Sporer.

Dumpsters will be available from 10:00 to 4:00 on Saturday, May 17, at Looking Glass Valley Park just south of Wacousta. Sporer adds that cleanup efforts should concentrate on areas visible from township roads, and that no household trash will be accepted.

Any group interested in sprucing up any specific area of Watertown Charter Township park system can call Tony Sporer at 626-6593 for more information.

The DHS stage band will perform at the Capitol Plaza in Lansing from noon until 1 p.m. Thursday, May 29, as part of the daily May musical presentations offered on the capitol grounds by Michigan school bands and choirs.

SOLEMN COMMUNION: Forty-two children who had made their First Communion this year took part in the Community of St. Jude's Solemn Communion Celebration Saturday, April 26, at the five o'clock Mass.

operates at various levels. After setting up their own state and county offices during the one-week legislative program, students carry on the different elective jobs themselves.

Wieferich will attend Boys State at Michigan State University June 12-18.

CITY COUNCIL NOTES

City Council accepted Bob Peterson's resignation Monday from his post as administrative assistant. Peterson left DeWitt Friday to become city manager of Scottville.

Council approved a new street assessment policy and the first reading of a building code amendment, which updates the cable code from 1983 to 1986 and creates a building board of appeals.

Others were Albert Manas, Daniel Martinez, Jason Mathers, Matt Mathers, Mary Mauro, Paul Maysura, Katie Peacock, Valarie Peaphon, Allison Putz, Lauren Radke, Mike Reed, Michael Roberts, Staci Rodes, Jeremy Romel, Maureen Ruddy, Tracie Schafer, Russell Smith, Erik Soderberg, Becky Sonalia, Terance Stone, Ross Thelen and Joe Woodruff.

Kevin Platte made the cover illustration for the children's communion program. Hank Lotoszinski and Mary Lou Russell provided guitar music for the Mass, which was said by the pastor, Fr. David Stotenbur. CCD instructors Jack Armstrong, Sr. Mary Antoinette, Bonnie Brya, Penny Byelich, Carol and Paul Platte arranged the First Communion program. A reception followed at the church.

...surprised a few years ago when the city named the new Main Street park "McGuire Park" in his honor.

The Iowa native and 1928 graduate of the University of Iowa came to Michigan as a district engineer for the State Health Department. "My first job here," he recalls, "was setting up a water and sewer system at Camp Grayling."

From the Division of Engineers he moved on to become Chief of Sanitary Bacteriology & Chemistry Division. That was when he and his late wife, Irene, found the 10 acre site on Dill Road, where he still resides and indulges his hobby of catering to area wildlife and baby raccoons in particular.

As the fifth DeWitt Citizen of the Year, McGuire joins Bertha Lennemann, Arthur Newman, Clarence Fuersterau and Willard Reed, who were selected in previous years. The Citizen of the Year Award was established in 1982 to honor individuals who had contributed their time and talents in the city's behalf.

DeWitt High School band will add a festive note when city officials welcome Mayors Exchange visitors from Dundee at 9:30 a.m. next Monday at the fire station. McGuire will be honor guest throughout the day's activities, which will include 12:30 p.m. luncheon at the DeWitt Retreat House, tours of city facilities and dinner at Prairie Creek Golf Club.

Student Craftsmen Take State Awards

DeWitt industrial education students brought home more than their share of awards from the Michigan Industrial Education Society's state convention held in Traverse City May 2 - 3, including two first places, two second places and three fourth places.

Both first and second place in the Graphic Relief Printing category went to DeWitt student entries. Mark Alverson earned a first place for the 1986 DHS embossed blue and gold commencement program cover; Chad Feltenberger received second place for the 1986 "Annie" musical program.

DeWitt's class project, mass producing 20 rocking horses, won first place as a Woodworking Group project. A Group Project second place was awarded the program which DHS students has printed for the MIES regional fair held the previous weekend at DeWitt High School.

Fourth places included Scott Seifert's DeWitt Follies program and Tom McComb's weightlifting record chart. Also earning a fourth place in Woodworking Models was eighth grader Scott Rathburn's wooden truck.

David Vaughn's MIES regional fair ribbon tops took fifth place; MIES presidential reception invitations by Matt Wilson, eighth place; Feltenberger's 1985 commencement programs 10th place.

Industrial ed instructor Ray Unger was elated to have so many top finishers since there were "3,319 entries from high schools in all classes from 18 regions all over the state."

Interestingly enough, Unger said, Region 8 which includes DeWitt produced two of the 11 divisional grand awards at state level. Two entries which had earned Regional Best of Show ribbons at the DeWitt fair - a pictorial machine assembly drawing of a Mazda car by Jeff Caron of Charlotte and a computerized robot by Jae Son of Okemos - were grand award winners in Traverse City.

OPEN HOUSE ANNOUNCEMENT

An open house in honor of DeWitt Public Schools retirees will be held Sunday, June 1, by the DeWitt Board of Education, the DeWitt Education Association, and Michigan Educational Support Personnel Assn.

Charles "Chuck" Ruble of Myers Road is an accomplished woodcarver, but he would rather talk about the fine work other craftsmen do and favorite pieces in his carving collection.

Molly Ruble recognizes the fact that her husband "does good work" and thinks that "he doesn't appreciate the quality of his own carving".

Varied specimens of Chuck Ruble's carving, as well as pieces done by his brothers, Pete who lives on Cherry Lane, and Karl of Webb Road, are currently on display in the front window of the Willard Reed Agency on Main Street, DeWitt.

One of the larger exhibited carvings, Ruble's family crest, won third place ribbon and a smaller caricature of a baseball player, a second place, at the International Woodcarving Festival held in Windsor, Ont.

Ruble designed the crest using a sickle and wheat (from the Ruble family crest which dates back to Swiss and later, German farmers), Americanizing it with an American eagle outline and carving the Ruble name, ribbon-fashion, across the emblem.

Ruble was a charter member of the Grand Ledge Woodcarvers Club a decade or so ago, starting it with the late Burr Parker, and still finds the club meeting "relaxing". He was an active member of Historic DeWitt Arts and Crafts Club, "But not active enough, I guess," he says with a wry smile, referring to the organization's demise for lack of members.

The largest project Ruble has tackled is a utilitarian one - carefully carving wildlife nature scenes of his own selection on a mantel which will grace his living room fireplace. On the 8 foot x 8" x 4" length of basswood, he has carved, to date, an eagle, deer, duck, rabbit, fish, owl, moose, pine tree, Indian paddling a canoe, and a grizzly bear just rounding one curved corner. On one of the two mantle supports, he's begun carving the head of a bearded old man.

Chuck and Molly took the mantelpiece and some of his other carvings to display at Woldumar Nature Center's annual pancake breakfast on the last Sunday of April. They don't attend too many shows, other than Woldumar and Windsor, but have managed to plan their vacations around woodworking destinations for the last five or six years.

Wood carvings of various sizes and themes on display in the Willard Reed Agency.

The couple spent time last summer touring the National Carvers Museum north of Colorado Springs, CO. They have traveled to Canada a couple of times to admire fine workmanship in the 30 or 40 shops at St. Jean Port Joli, Quebec, which is known as the woodcarving capital of North America.

Over the years Ruble has gathered his Swiss-made carving tools fashioned of fine steel. As he slips each delicate knife or chisel from its slot in the case, he can tell you just where he brought it or had it made.

How did he get into woodcarving? He took a term or two of woodcarving classes at Lansing Community College and has attended some classes given by various other teachers.

A graphic art designer for the Michigan Department of Transportation's Bureau of Aeronautics, Ruble is blessed with artistic talent which enhances his work. Perhaps that is why he's such an admirer of other people's fine work and has collected miniature ducks fashioned by other craftsmen.

Ruble is pleased that his handicraft has influenced several other family members to take up woodcarving. When their parents died, his younger brothers Karl and Pete came to live with Chuck and Molly as teen-agers. Both graduated from DeWitt High School, as did Ruble's two sons, Steve and Dan. Karl began carving three or four years ago; Pete took up carving last winter.

Steve, who lives in Lexington, KY, has also taken up his father's woodcarving hobby. So have two of Chuck Ruble's brothers, who reside in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

An interesting selection of carvings from the nimble fingers of the three local Ruble brothers will remain at the Reed Agency through the end of May. Selections of Chuck Ruble and Arnold Korte's wood carvings are also displayed at Capital City Airport.

DEWITT AREA BLOOD DRIVE

You are invited to a DeWitt Area Blood Drive. Tuesday, May 27 from 12:30 to 6:15 pm at DeWitt Memorial Building, 206 West Washington, DeWitt.

OPEN HOUSE ANNOUNCEMENT

An open house in honor of DeWitt Public Schools retirees will be held Sunday, June 1, by the DeWitt Board of Education, the DeWitt Education Association, and Michigan Educational Support Personnel Assn.

The honored guests will be Donald R. Powell, Elementary Principal, who is retiring after 18 years of service; Margaret Kowalk, Middle School Teacher for the past 22 years, and John Schultz, Middle School Custodian with 16 years of service.

The open house will be held in the Scott School Cafeteria from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, June 1, 1986.

JOHN SCHULTZ: John Schultz retired on May 5, after 16 years of providing custodial services to the DeWitt Public Schools. He worked as a skilled carpenter prior to his employment in the school system, a background that helped him provide additional services to the middle school staff and students. He built the tables for the computer lab, repaired furniture, and built the computer desk for the middle school office, podiums, bookcases, and managed the countless repair jobs that occur in a school situation.

Mr. Schultz plans to spend time on his favorite hobby, golf, and to get back into the business of building things.

MARGARET KOWALK: Margaret was born and raised in Iowa, until moving to Ohio when she was in the 10th grade. She attended Bowling Green State University, where she majored in Home Economics and minored in Biology. Of the four girls in her family, three of them became teachers. After graduation in 1942, she taught in Elmore, Ohio. From 1944-46, she worked as a lab technician at Sun Oil Refineries in Toledo, as part of the female labor force picking up the jobs formerly held by the nations soldiers.

Mrs. Kowalk earned her elementary education teaching certification in 1958, after taking time out to raise her family. She returned to teach in Lott School, a one-room school house which was located on the corner of E. Howe and Wood Street. Later, she taught at Hurd and Valley Farms Schools before coming to DeWitt in 1964. In her teaching career, she has taught all levels of students from kindergarten to seniors in high school. Mrs. Kowalk has been a sixth grade teacher in the Middle School for most of the years that she has been in DeWitt.

Mrs. Kowalk intends to do volunteer work after she retires on June 13. She is already planning to become active in the Michigan Education Association-Retired, an organization which is composed of retired school employees and which remains active in the decision-making processes of the Michigan Education Association.
