TOWNSHIP MINUTES

The Clinton County Road Commission will be asked to install rumble strips, but there'll be no traffic light at the intersection of Clark and DeWitt roads, trustees decided at the Monday meeting of the DeWitt Charter Township Board. Rumble strips will alert drivers to the four-way stop signs at the intersection, Clerk Greg Whitlock said.

After listening to comments of nearby King Arthur's Court and Wood Street residents, who did not want an apartment building erected, trustees denied Eric Kindlund's request for rezoning to multiple dwelling on Wood Street north of State road. They approved on first reading the building ordinance amendment to Ordinance 60, which tightens restrictions on multiple unit developments.

In other action, board members approved: spending $8,000 for two applications of chloride to gravel roads within the township this summer; $840 for new inspection forms to reflect fee changes; $60 for two new fire

He also studied preparation of all personnel documents including identification cards, promotion certificates, individual evaluation reports and leave authorizations.

A 1986 graduate of Grand Ledge High School, he joined the Marine Corps in July 1986.

A surveyor, working on a site, realized he had left behind an instrument known as a Sopwith Staff which determines levels. Turning to a workman, he said, "Go back to my office and bring me my staff, will you?"

Hawks, Glenn Webster, Walter Nobis, and Bob VanDriesen are working on recommendations for an architect and site for a 100-cell jail. Jail capacity is 42, but the April daily average was 67 prisoners. Overflow prisoners are now transported to jail facilities in other counties, at an average cost to Clinton County of $30 to $45 per inmate daily.

According to Sheriff Terry Haneckow, last year's cost of transporting prisoners and housing them elsewhere was $139,450. Deputies are then required to bring inmates back and forth for court appearances. The county jail has failed to meet code for many years.

CARING COUNTS: Only when death visits your own home or family do you realize how much each individual or group expression of sympathy means.

Our sincere thanks to everyone who sent messages of condolence or assisted in any way during my mother's recent illness and death... the staff at St. Lawrence Hospital, who were so thoughtful and considerate... Nurse Sue Bunge and Aide Diane Burns from Clinton Memorial Hospital Home Health Services, marvelous supporters of both patient and family during their frequent visits... John Spoelma and the staff of Gorsline-Runciman DeWitt Chapel... Fr. Dave Stotenbur and members of the Community of St. Jude... Pat DeYoung and her crew of ladies, who prepared and served such an excellent funeral dinner... the many concerned friends and neighbors who were there when they were needed. The family of Catherine Carney is most appreciative of all your efforts.

PROM APPROACHES: The library at DeWitt High School has a unique drawing card these days - menus from a dozen or so local restaurants. Thanks to enterprising senior Michelle Everson, who made the necessary contacts to secure the menus, prom-going students may now check out dinners and prices in the DHS library before making their prom dinner reservations. Librarian Candy Laughlin says that the table full of menus is very popular with the students.

A good many plans revolve around DeWitt's a second place. McComb's "Grease" play program was a third place winner, and Rick Fruin's "Cleaning Lady" business cards garnered a sixth place in graphics.

Bret Emery was first in more ways than one. His power converter, which won a first place, was also the first electronics project ever entered in state competition by Mike Soltysiak's electronics class at DHS.

The remainder of the nine DHS entries received honorable mentions in the state meeting of the Michigan Industrial Education Society, which was held at Grand Traverse Resort near Traverse City.

"It's hard to describe just how well we did," remarks a proud Ray Unger, DHS industrial ed teacher, "unless you have seen the displays of magnificent products entered annually in this state competition. The work is all of such top quality and so well done that it's a great satisfaction to earn these honors."

"That's all behind us now," Unger continues. "We're already making plans for projects to enter in next year's Region 8 Fair at Mason."

TREE PLANTING: Tom Zielaskowski's science class braved rainy weather on April 23 to participate in the Arbor Day planting of an 8-foot Norway pine on the south side of DeWitt High School.

Student government at the high school is sponsoring Project Prom - modeled after the Project Graduation plan - wherein students sign pledge forms in cooperation with their parents, agreeing to an alcohol/drug-free evening.

Signers are eligible for a raffle, to which local businesses and organizations are donating prizes. Free dinners, flowers, hair styling and hot air balloon rides are among the many prizes. The Royal Scot has been rented for a post-prom party, according to Peggy Williams, student government advisor; fellow teacher Lyn Kressler, and parent Cindy Robinson, who have been assisting with plans. There'll be bowling, pinball, pool, and driving range recreation to choose from, followed by raffling of the special prizes and a prom breakfast.

CITY COUNCIL NOTES

DeWitt City Council accepted the $10,850 bid of G.H. Ross Co. at the Monday meeting to install a retaining wall and sidewalk on the east side of Wilson Street near Scott School, subject to their meeting contract requirements. Work is to begin right after school closes for the summer, but no sooner than June 15. City workers will install the 120 feet of cyclone fencing needed or else the job will be contracted out.

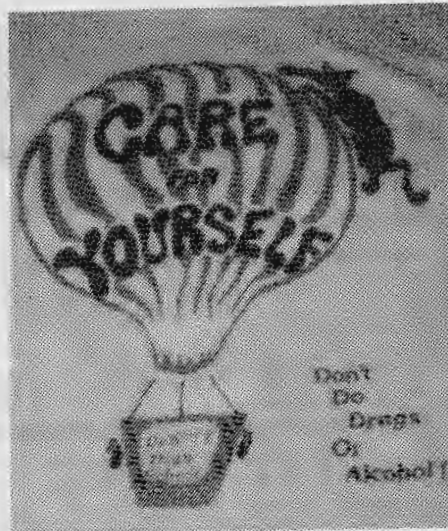

Fire chief Doug Twiss was authorized to sell $2,200 in First of America stock, which had been donated toward the fire department's purchase of a Heart-Aid Machine. With these monies and the additional funds which have been raised, the department will be able to order the machine and have it installed in a truck for $11,028.50 by Medical Devices, Inc. DeWitt's fire department will be the first in the central Michigan area to have a Heart-Aid, Twiss told council.

Purchase of a rescue air bag by the fire department was approved at a cost of $663.75 from Alert Firefighting Equipment. The reusable bag can be placed against windshield interiors, helping firefighters to pop the windshield out for rescue purposes without breaking the glass, or to lift or spread machinery/equipment in which persons are trapped.

Council members decided upon a bond refunding resolution, in hopes of lowering interest rates by refinancing two bond issues - a 1978-1 Sewer Improvement Bond and a 1978-2 Street Improvement Bond. Mayor Lynn Thayer and Clerk Margie Lotre are thus enabled to sign the necessary papers when the Michigan Municipal Bond Authority decides it would be advantageous for the city.

HOLY LAND PILGRIMAGE: Seven DeWitt travelers returned home May 9 after an exciting two weeks "walking the highways and byways once walked by Jesus" in Israel, Lebanon, and Syria. Pastor Harry Johnson of Redeemer United Methodist Church, his wife Judy, their daughter Kris; Gayla and Jack DeFoe and their daughter Lisa, and Clara Price made the Eastertime journey and have been thrilled to share their adventure with others since their return.

Johnsons have been leading tours to the Holy Land every two years or so. Their party this time totalled 17 including participants from St. Johns, Laingsburg, and Lansing. Johnson calls it "the finest learning experience in the world in helping to understand the scriptures ... until you experience the land of the Bible, you don't really understand the meaning of scripture." Actually standing in the biblical places, sampling the totally different culture, helps to clarify the meaning of many biblical situations, he explains.

As an example, he cites their visit to a lady in Bethany, who lives across the street from the tomb of Lazarus ... her family has lived there 900 years. Their 5,000-year-old history and family lines, Johnson points out, is just as clear to them as our 200-year-old history here.

THE TRAVELERS visited many sites in Israel (which is about the size of New Jersey, Johnson notes), and then under heavy guard crossed the borders into portions of Lebanon and Syria.

With the USCWB, she will travel for three weeks in July to England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Holland, and Switzerland.

Acceptance for membership in this highly talented group of student musicians is considered a musical honor of national importance. The members of the 90-piece wind band are chosen from the entire United States once each year. Students from 47 of the 50 states participated in last year's tour.

Each trip to the Holy Land is different, the pastor explains, because archeologists are always discovering something new, so there are always new places to visit.

They spent half a day swimming in the Dead Sea, rode camels and took a cable car to a mountaintop. En route home, they spent 2½ days in Rome, where they visited museums, the Coliseum, Vatican City, and other points of interest.

Clara Price, the eldest traveler in their group at age 90, enjoyed every moment of the tour. A former teacher, she was thrilled to see at last the places she had taught about to generations of children. Clara had canvassed Redeemer church people and others in the community, in advance, enlisting sponsors of her walk for World Hunger. She walked a total of 55 miles during the overseas trip and raised a hefty sum for charity.
