CLINTON COUNTY HISTORICAL COMMISSION

Teachers in Clinton County's six school districts had the opportunity on to attend the 1988 Humanities and Education Conference sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Humanities at Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, Michigan State University, April 29.

The Clinton County Historical Commission responding the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution and the State Board of Education's position on the humanities, provides funding for teachers to attend, learn, and bring back to the classroom fresh knowledge about cultural literacy and the humanities in education. On November 5, 1986, The Michigan State Board of Education helped to define the scope of the term humanities and the purposes of humanities programs in the schools with this statement:

It is the position of the State Board of searching a chance to see if the Catholic faith and the Community of St. Jude in particular can be that support for them in their search." said Jack Armstrong, Coordinator of Adult Education.

In a letter from Rev. David M. Stotenbur, pastor, all of the members of the Community of St. Jude were encouraged to invite friends, neighbors and relatives to the inquiry sessions. At all of the Sunday Masses, Randy Schaefer, a member of the welcoming committee, asked each member of the parish to make their faith real by extending an invitation to the sessions to anyone they know who is without a church.

"Special Kids Visit Riley School by Cheryl Johnson

The third grade classroom of Mrs. Pryby's had some very special kids visit them. Two week old baby Nubian goats (called Kids) came for a visit on March 30th. The little kid goats were brought to the school by 4-H teen leaders Cheryl Johnson and Katina Schaub, both are members of the Clinton Caprine 4-H Club.

This was Health Week at school and the students have been studying ways on how to keep their bodies healthy, they decided to look at animals and how they stay healthy and basic care.

Cheryl and Katina gave each student a handout on the different breeds of goats, the body parts and a paper on basic health care of livestock, which told about the heart rate, pulse, etc.

Everyone in the class room listened to the heart rate of the kid goats, they learned a little about body parts, fed bottles and learned about the dehorning of the goats.

Everyone took time to ask questions and wanted to learn as much as they could. These baby kids really helped bring excitement into the classroom. Everyone thought the baby kids would make great pets and Cheryl and Katina hope to return with the baby goats at the end of the school year so everyone can see how much they have grown.

helped to determine the scope of the term, humanities and the purposes of humanities programs in the schools with this statement:

It is the position of the State Board of Education that - local education agencies can effectively accomplish implementation of existing policies through the use and promotion of instruction and student learning activities in the humanities at all levels, kindergarten through twelfth grade. Local districts should adopt policies and curriculum guidelines to ensure that the humanities are an essential part of student learning objectives and school experiences.

Two keynote addresses featured Dr. Judith Lanier, President, Holmes Group, on teacher preparation matters, and Dr. James Kelly, President, National Council for Teaching Standards, on standards for teacher certification. Workshops (16) focus on a variety of subjects including teaching the Northwest Ordinance, freedom of expression in schools, using the Constitution as a focus for a U.S. history course, oral history, the Grand Rapids Writing Project, among a few.

Luncheon speaker was Dr. Lynne Cheney, Chair, National Endowment for the Humanities, Her topic was "American Memory."

CLOTHING TIPS FOR RECREATIONAL SAFETY

As the weather gets warmer more and more people will be outside relaxing. In Clinton county there are many spring time recreational activities available to us.

You can increase your fun, comfort and safety when hiking, fishing, camping or hunting if you follow a few clothing safety tips:

An Angler's clothing should fit the season--light and comfortable in the summer and heavier in the cooler months. It's usually better to have too much clothing on a fishing trip than too little in case of unexpected rain or a change in temperature. A good rain suit or poncho will come in handy if you're caught in the rain or a cold wind starts to blow. Hats or caps will help prevent sunburn on the face or head.

Hunters should wear a cap or hat and a coat or vest of hunter orange. This color has been found to be the most visible and so the most helpful in preventing accidental shootings.

Winter boots, including those with insulation, should be a little larger than your usual shoe size. You may need to go up a half size. The extra space allows you to wear two pairs of socks for insulation, absorption and padding. The inner pair should be of cotton or one of the new synthetic fabrics that wick away sweat. The outer pair may be of wool or other insulating fibers.

these sessions will offer people who are searching a chance to see if the Catholic faith and the Community of St. Jude in particular can be that support for them in their search," said Jack Armstrong, Coordinator of Adult Education.

4-H HAPPENINGS

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT AT 1988 4-H EXPLORATION DAYS

"The Sky's the Limit" is the theme of the 18th annual 4-H Exploration Days, June 22-24 at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

"4-H Exploration Days is for girls and boys ages 12 and up who want to spend three fun-filled days on the beautiful campus of MSU," says Theresa Silm, Extension 4-H Youth Agent. "Two hundred learning options and 3,000 Michigan young people combine to make this a unique, exciting and memorable experience for kids."

Participants in 4-H Exploration Days can sign up for classes in sailing, animal science, robotics, modeling, food preparation, nutrition, photography, clowning and personal computers, among others.

A special addition to 4-H Exploration Days this year is a performance by the international cast of "Up With People." Their colorful, musical show, called "Time for the Music," will be at MSU's Wharton Center for Performing Arts June 22.

"4-H Exploration Days is an excellent opportunity for young people to spend time learning new skills or enhancing already proven talents," Silm says. "Probably the best thing about the event is that it gives kids opportunities to improve themselves, meet new friends and have an awful lot of fun."

In 1967 DeWitt City Fire Department started their Semi-Annual Fireman's Blood Drive, and had 56 donors. 20 years and over 30 drives later we had 86 donors. This is about 1 out of every 45 able citizens in the DeWitt Community.

The DeWitt City Fire & Rescue & The Ladies Aux., will be holding that famous blood drive on Monday May 23rd 1988, at the DeWitt Memorial Building, 206 W. Washington, from 1pm to 6:45pm. This will be our 1st Pre-Holiday Blood Drive. As we all know there are more accidents during the Holidays and extra blood is needed.

We urge you, if you have never given blood before to be daring and help someone. As you will remember at this time last year Little Tianna Ballard needed the communities blood - this year we hope no one from DeWitt will have this need.

This year, as always, Terranova's will be helping the DeWitt City Fireman's Ladies Aux. supply sandwiches and refreshments to all donors.

Hours of the sale are Friday, May 20, 8:00-7:00, and Saturday, May 21, 8:00-2:00.

This fund-raiser will help pay for the new timing equipment at the high school pool, and also support scholarships for deserving swimmers. Last year's event was a huge success, and the goal is to sell-out all 2,000 plants that are ordered.

Orders can be taken by any member of the DeWitt Swim Club, or by calling Chris Peacock (669-8262) or Beth Maatman (669-9298). Pre-orders will guarantee that you plants will be available. However, there will be a choice selection for all buyers at the site.

The club's annual tournament will be held June 11 at Prairie Creek Golf Course (with a June 12 rain date). There is an 8:00 a.m. shotgun start.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

DeWitt is a great place to live.

From December through April there have been lots of nice things happen that are worth your consideration.

Family Christmas program figures were not available, however, several hundred dollars and many volunteer hours are spent making Christmas a better season for less fortunate families.

DeWitt Lions Clubs are sponsoring the "Skills for Adolescence" Gas raffle. The White Cane sale netted $2,500., Lillie Sale $1,000., Old Newsboys & Hazel Findley amounts were not available.

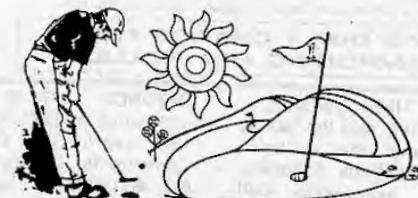

DeWitt Knights of Columbus Special Days dinner netted $6,600., Tootsie Roll sale $2,450.

The High School held their Second Prom Party for Seniors who would pledge "no drinking".

I did not take the time to survey the schools for further events nor were the Churches and/or all Service Clubs contacted, however, this is a good representation of the Community activities that I feel we should all be proud of.

Sincerely,

Willard J. Reed

GEOFF BROWN TO RECEIVE ROBERT C. BYRD SCHOLARSHIP

The Michigan State Board of Education has selected Geoff Brown to receive a $1,500 Robert C. Byrd Scholarship.

The Byrd Scholarship Program, established by the United States Congress, is federally funded and provides one-time, merit scholarships to graduating high school students who have achieved superior academic records and show promise of continued excellence. Federal Law requires that awards be made to ten students in each U.S. Congressional District. The scholarship is for the first year of study at any college or university in the United States.

In Michigan, the selection of Byrd Scholarship winners is coordinated with the Academic All-State Team Program, administered by the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals in cooperation with the Detroit Free Press. In this program, each high school in the state is invited to nominate an outstanding senior, based upon high school academic achievement and college aptitude test scores. The State Board of Education then uses the applications of these nominees in its selection process.

An awards luncheon for the scholarship recipients from our congressional district will be held at Gilbert's Steak House, in Jackson, on June 6. Their parents are also invited to attend.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF SPRING BARBECUE!

If your menu repertoire is starting to look like the late night movie reruns on TV, why not change the channel and become a spring outdoor cook?

The first thing to do is to check your equipment and supplies. The grill should be absolutely clean and rust-free. If you're buying a grill, think carefully about your needs. A small hibachi or brazier is economical and just family-sized; for entertaining larger groups, a bigger grill is more appropriate.

If you will be barbecuing frequently, buy the largest bag of charcoal you can find—it's more economical that way. To increase the life of your grill, spread a layer of coarse gravel in the firebowl. Make the bed one inch deep. This keeps the metal from burning out. To make clean-ups easier and to keep meats, poultry and fish from sticking, grease your grill just before you begin cooking. Use any fat you like—raw bacon, lard, cooking oil, butter, margarine, or bacon drippings.

Have a caddy handy with all of the Use any fat you like--raw bacon, lard, cooking oil, butter, margarine, or bacon drippings.

Have a caddy handy with all of the "tools of the trade" easily within reach. These could include a long-handled spatula, a pair of tongs, a set of sharp cutting knives, padded mitts, wood matches, a spray bottle of water and some baking soda.

When barbecuing, never spray charcoal lighter fluid on already lit coals; it may cause the can to explode. Keep the lighter fluid in a cool place away from the grill, small children and pets. Watch small children around any fire; be sure they don't reach up and touch a hot surface. NEVER use gasoline to start charcoal.

A meal in the backyard or at a park with friends can be relaxing and enjoyable. It can also result in food poisoning unless you take special care to keep hot foods hot (above 140 degrees F) and cold foods cold (below 40 degrees F).

Maintaining foods at safe temperatures during picnics and cookouts means planning ahead.

If you are traveling to your picnic site and the food will be unrefrigerated more than 15 minutes, try to follow some safety guidelines:

- * Use a cold ice chest and plenty of ice or dry ice to guarantee that the cold foods will stay cold.

- * Use an extra ice chest--without ice--to keep hot foods hot.

- * Carry perishables in small quantities so there won't be any leftovers. If there are leftovers, it's safer to throw them away.

- * Non-perishable foods, such as nuts, fruits, crackers, raw vegetables and cookies--are always safe for picnics.

- * Be sure that meats are cooked thoroughly.

- * Remember that it gets very hot in the trunk of a car. It might be better to put the cold cooler in the passenger compartment rather than in the trunk.
