IMPROMPTU CELEBRATION: Paul and Mary Ann Reuter really didn't plan to do anything special to mark their 45th wedding anniversary, but their families decided it was a good time for a get-together anyway.

Relatives poured in from all directions the week beforehand. With three out-of-town campers parked in their yard, Reuters weren't at all surprised to have friends asking if they were setting up a campground operation.

Their son Danny popped in by surprise from his USAF station in Sicily to spend a week with his parents. Son and daughter-in-law, David and Kathy Reuter, drove in from Bloomington, IN. with their daughter Amy and son Andrew.

Other celebrants who joined the weekend and week-long party included:

Mary Ann's brother and sister-in-law, Francis and Rose Elsinger, from Oshkosh, WI; her two brothers-in-law and sisters Richard and Sylvia Reuter (double relatives - he's Paul's brother too), of W. Palm Beach, FL; Al and Veronica Schmidt, of Lake Worth, FL; Paul's brother and sister-in-law, Leonard and Stella Reuter, of Pilot Grove, MO, with their son and daughter-in-law, Earl and Darlene Reuter and family.

Missing because school started for their four children this week were Reuters' son-in-law and daughter, Wayne and Diane Wiltshire, who live in Jeffrey City, WY. Also unable to return to the midwest were son-in-law and daughter, Douglas and Denise Huber and their daughter, who were in the process of moving into a new home in Phoenix, AZ.

Paul and Mary Ann exchanged wedding vows on per hour.

Reservations are recommended, says proprietress Christine Farmer, because licensing regulations limit the capacity or the number of children who may be handled simultaneously.

"You are welcome to drop in or call on short notice though, and take your chances," she points out. "Call 669-8239 for reservations or more information."

She's been told that baby-sitters are often impossible to secure locally, because DeWitt students are involved in so many activities. Farmer hopes that the new service will be an answer to that problem.

The drop-in service will be in operation on a trial basis during September to determine if it's a feasible program. If the drop-in service is not used, it will be discontinued, Farmer emphasizes.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY: Raymond and Irene Davis, Howe Road, have had a busy summer...highlighted by the surprise July party at their farm home, where some 150-200 friends and relatives joined them to help celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Cousin Fred Ritter and his wife, Ille, came from Braunschweig, Germany, to spend some time with them and share in the celebration. Ritter, who had been a professional German comedian for 40 years, acted as master of ceremonies for the anniversary party and "kept everyone in stitches."

SCHOOL BOARD NEWS

RENEW TEACHER'S CONTRACT

DeWitt school board and teachers ratified a new three-year contract expiring in 1989 at a special meeting Monday evening.

Teachers will get a 6 percent wage increase for each of the next three years, increased dental benefits and a new vision benefit.

School board members ratified the contract 6-1, with David Harfst dissenting because the contract will cost the district $171,787 for the first year.

Superintendent Steve Garrett said the district's financial status will be determined better by enrollment on the fourth Friday count, which calculates state aid. An exceptionally large kindergarten class - 177 compared with 124 last September - has set DeWitt enrollment at only eight less than last year's fourth Friday count.

The 84 teachers began work on Thursday; students report for school Tuesday, Sept. 2.

NEW TEACHERS

Board members approved first semester contracts for Cheryl Mason of Grand Blanc and Kimberly Ewen of East Lansing, to replace two fifth grade teachers who are on temporary leave.

Susan Lucian will also assume the new special education resource room position, pending her release from the Dansville school system, where she has been under contract.

TOWNSHIP MINUTES

DeWitt Township and DeWitt city officials have agreed in principle on a plan to share use of the township's water system/tower and the agreement is being put in writing. The contact should be ready for signing "probably by the end of September", according to Greg Whitlock, township clerk.

FOUNDATION GOLF TOURNAMENT: DeWitt Public Schools Foundation is sponsoring the second annual 4 Person Scramble Golf Tournament Saturday, Sept. 13, at Prairie Creek Golf Course.

Proceeds will benefit educational programs for DeWitt Public Schools. The foundation awarded its initial mini-grants this year and established two memorial scholarships.

Mini-grants were for a second grade puppet project, a high school quiz bowl contestant response system and an assault prevention/self-defense program for high school girls.

The Jay Foresman Memorial Scholarship provided a $500 grant this year to promote interest and reward excellence in mathematics. The Gary Decker Memorial Scholarship will offer $500 next year, promoting interest and rewarding excellence in art and interior design, including computer enhanced arts.

The fund-raising scramble will have an 8 a.m. shotgun start, with a maximum of 36 teams playing 18 holes of golf. A sandwich bar and "door prizes galore" are included in the $20 per person tickets.

Tickets and information may be obtained from Dan Bourbon, 669-5553; Keith Davis, 669-9491, or Gary Gillespie, 669-9566.

Underwriting the golf tournament are Kiebco Foods, Inc.; Dandee Printing Company; Douglas B. Twiss Agency; Pat McCrackin Ford; Heights Auto Parts; Culligan Water Conditioning; Century 21 Gaskin Realty Ltd.; Roger Overway Insurance; Dr. William Schoonover, DDS; Freeman, Smith & Associates, Inc.; McNalley Dawn Donuts/Amoco; Tony's Hair Shop; DeWitt Shop; Rite; The Shopping Guide; DeWitt Medical Center; Willard Reed Agency; The Hair Drop; and Bill O'Shaughnessy Chevrolet.

TRIAL DROP-IN SERVICE: The Learning Tree Child Development Center on Bridge Street in downtown DeWitt will offer a new baby-sitting drop-in service during the month of September, to see if it answers a community need.

Beginning the week of Sept. 8, parents may drop off children aged 2½ to 12 years between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. Monday through Friday. Fee will be $1.50

Cropsey cited a Detroit Free Press article, which he said focused unfairly on his past and his conservative religious beliefs, and would make him a liability on Lucas' ticket.

Cropsey, 34, who lives in Olive Township, was on his way to discuss the job with Lucas when he made the decision to withdraw. He ran in the August primary for the 3rd District Court of Appeals, but came in sixth among eight candidates.

Lucas immediately named Robert Cleland of Port Huron, St. Clair County prosecutor, as his choice for the attorney general job.

Kurt Klemens, administrative aide for the city, and city fire chief Doug Twiss presented information on the planned purchase of a new fire truck to township trustees at Monday evening's meeting. The city is notifying local units of government, which utilize city fire protection, that there will be a cost allocation adjustment when the new vehicle is purchased.

In a relatively quiet township meeting, trustees approved two rezoning ordinances on second reading and tabled business relating to fire code and uniform traffic code.

The winners of the floral art competition, sponsored by the Clinton County Arts Council to celebrate their first anniversary in the Gallery and held in conjunction with the Mint Festival, were announced at an afternoon artists' reception.

Grand Prize was awarded to Doris Jarrell of Laingsburg for her watercolor entitled "Nasturtium Winds". She received a gift certificate for $50 in art supplies plus a cash award. Florence Horn of Elsie received First Prize of a gift certificate for art books plus a cash award for "Garden Song", also done in watercolor.

Additional cash prizes went to Ruth Brooks of Carson City, Trisha Reust of DeWitt, and Maxine Strahle of St. Johns.

KARATE DEMO TO BE GIVEN

DeWitt Tang Soo Do Karate Club will present an orientation and demonstration program at the DeWitt Conservatory, 115 N. Bridge, Thursday, Sept. 4, at 6:30 p.m.

Karate classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. For further information contact head instructor Scott Kramer, 482-8866.

Open House Introduces Swim Club Program

The DeWitt Swim Club gets their 1986-87 season underway with an open house at the high school pool from 6:00-7:30 p.m. on Sept. 9, 10 and 11. This is a great chance for people to learn about the age group swim program for swimmers ages 5-17.

Parents, swimmers and coach Debbie Goodkin will be on hand to answer questions and talk about club activities. Those wishing to swim as part of the open house may do so.

The swim club has existed for over 10 years and has developed many excellent swimmers. Many of Mike Keevan's high school girl's and boy's swim team members started by swimming with the club as youngsters, and they still swim with the club in their off-season.

Registration can take place at the open house or by calling Bill Fullmer, 669-9720, or Chris Peacock, 669-8262. Swim practice will begin Sept. 15, although persons wanting to start later in September may do so. The basic schedule is:

10 and under age group - M & W 5:30-6:30 and Friday 5:30-7:00.

11 and up age group M-Th 6:30-8:00 and Friday 5:30-7:00.

An entry level Cub Club is also planned for new swimmers and will meet for a half hour twice a week. More details will be given on this at the open house.

DRIVERS NEEDED: The Homebound Meals program, which benefits DeWitt city and township senior citizens, is in jeopardy from a lack of drivers. The program faces the possibility of termination if drivers are not found.

Two routes daily, Monday through Friday, operate to provide hot meals for elderly shut-ins. One route has six stops serving eight people, the other has nine stops, serving 11 persons.

"Neither route takes more than an hour to do," says Bill Baumgardner, Jr., senior citizen coordinator for the program which operates from DeWitt Charter Township.

"These people depend on those daily meals," he continues, "and when a driver fails to show up or to notify us, it puts us in a real bind."

Summer was especially difficult for drivers because of vacations, Baumgardner points out - he and township treasurer Catherine Reed had to cover routes 19 of the 22 "meals" days in July - but he's hoping the fall/winter schedule will be better.

Baumgardner has sent letters to city and township churches, in hopes of soliciting some drivers from their congregations. Men or women who can drive one or more days weekly or monthly would greatly assist the Homebound Meals program, which operates in cooperation with the Tri-County Office on Aging.

The nutrition program provides hot, nutritious meals for homebound senior citizens who can't prepare their own food and are unable to participate at one of the congregate nutrition meal sites. Many clients who receive the meals live alone or with an ailing spouse. In addition to the noon hot meals, sack lunches can be provided for the evening meal and

County To Ask For New Jail

Clinton County commissioners agreed to place a one-mill request on the November ballot in order to finance a new $6 million county jail, although most of them believe the millage will be voted down.

Voters have rejected proposals for new county jail facilities two to one twice in the last decade. Anticipated cost of a new 75-cell facility is in the $5 to $6 million range. The one-mill would be for 20 years.

Since the current jail capacity is only 42, the county must pay about $15,000 monthly costs to board prisoners in excess of that number in nearby county jails. Clinton County usually has 50 to 60 jail inmates on a daily basis.

Commissioners have also voted for a $1.6 million bond issue to repair the Cooper drain in DeWitt in order to relieve water ponding that caused water to back into some basements. The county and DeWitt Township will each pay 20 percent; 60 percent will be special assessed against property owners in the drain district.

The drain, which serves an urban area around State Road and US-27, will improve storm drainage for 646 landowners in the 750-acre drain district. Improvements on State Road are

KALAMAZOO COLLEGE HONORS HELEN WOOD

"It has really been interesting to watch the many changes that have occurred through the years," remarks Helen Wood of W. Cutler Rd.

Born in 1897, she remembers the progression of washing utensils her mother used on the farm - from an early washboard to a tub with handle bar to a wringer, and then gradually, to more modern appliances. She's seen the changes in education and daily living from her generation to those of her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Helen grew up in mid-Michigan and attended Alma schools. Right after graduation from high school in 1915 she came to live with an uncle and aunt and work in Lansing. Her starting wage at Olds Motor Works was a princely $8 a week. She recalls paying $10 for a pair of shoes that year "because leather was high during the war."

After working in Lansing for three years, Helen went to Kalamazoo College, where she was very active in student affairs. She continued to distinguish herself throughout her long professional career.

During its 1986 summer honors program, the Emeritus Club of Kalamazoo College presented a special citation to Helen Cary Everett Wood in honor of her Helen, a member of the Class of 1922, held many offices during her student years. She became a member of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity, in 1921, and served as secretary of the organization in 1922. She was YWCA secretary, corresponding secretary of the Student Volunteers and a member of the committee which organized the 1922 Class Day. She received honors and a prize in philosophy at graduation.

Helen taught school in Onaway for a year before marrying Harmon Everett, her college classmate, in 1923, and moving to New Jersey. In 1937, they returned to Michigan and Helen took part in the first examination under Civil Service in 1938. She worked for the State of Michigan until her 1961 retirement, serving the last 14 years in the editorial department of the Historical Commission. She was associate editor of Michigan History Magazine.

Latest Freezing Methods Aid Vegetable Preparation

Vegetable gardening is a popular American pastime. But all too often gardens can mean too much of a good thing all at once. Perhaps it's time to consider preserving the food you grow.

If you are saying, "I don't have time to can and freeze," you may want to reconsider. Think about the high cost and often poor quality of produce during the winter months!

Freezing is the most popular way to preserve food. It is fast and easy and requires little equipment other than a freezer.

Frozen foods seldom spoil, though they are subject to loss from improper preparation, such as poor wrapping or freezing without blanching. Some vegetables, such as green onions, hot peppers, beets, sweet peppers, cooked tomatoes, green tomatoes and vinegar style cole slaw, can be frozen without blanching. This cuts the preparation time.

Select vegetables that are slightly immature. Then thoroughly wash the vegetables with water, drain and pat dry. Prepare them by slicing or dicing -- a food processor can be a great time saver -- or leave whole. Pack in freezer bags, releasing as much air as possible, and freeze in a single layer in the coldest part of the freezer.

Vegetables frozen this way should be used within three months and cooked by steaming or stir-frying. All other vegetables need to be blanched before being frozen. Blanching is a vital step. It entails heating the vegetables in boiling water or steam for a few minutes to stop the action of enzymes that would cause toughness and poor quality after one or two months of freezer storage. Recommended heating time varies with the type and size of vegetables.

Using boilable bags to blanch and freeze vegetables has become very popular. This allows you to process, freeze and cook all in the same bag and produces the best-tasting vegetables. Because the vegetables don't come into contact with the water, they retain their color, texture and nutrients. Some vegetables however are not recommended for the boilable bag method. They include whole carrots, whole beets, broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage and turnips.

Prepare the vegetables as you wish and pack about four bags at a time. Drop them into boiling water, cover and blanch for twice the length of time suggested for conventional blanching. Remove the bags from the boiling water and place in ice water. When all the bags have reached the ice water stage, cool for another 10 minutes and freeze in a single layer.

Home Canning Methods Undergo Many Changes

The first publication on home canning was issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in 1909. We've come a long way since then, thanks to continuing research.

When we use up-to-date home canning recommendations, we can be confident that our products will be safe to eat. Many home canners, however, are using old instructions with outdated methods. A good example is oven canning, which is no longer considered to be a safe canning method.

Likewise, old instructions for water bath processing low acid foods--vegetables, meats, fish, poultry--are not safe. To destroy the bacteria that cause botulism poisoning, these low acid foods must be processed in a pressure canner.

Recent research has led to changes in USDA canning recommendations just within the past year or two. For example, the recommended processing time for applesauce has been lengthened, and recommendations for canning strained squash and pumpkin were dropped because of safety concerns.

Tomato canning recommendations have undergone much change in recent years. Until researchers can determine adequate processing time, the raw pack method is no longer recommended and processing times for the hot pack method have been lengthened.

Because home canning recommendations continue to change, it is crucial to have current instructions. Check the date on the reference you are using. The "Ball Blue Book" was last revised in 1984. Look for a 1983 copyright on the latest "Kerr Home Canning and Freezing Book".

You may want to request Extension bulletin number E1555, "Home Canning" Fruits, Vegetables, Pickles, Jams and Jellies" from the County Extension office. There is a 50 cent charge for this bulletin. An investment in up-to-date canning references can cut food spoilage and prevent food poisoning.

SCHOOL DAYS, SCHOOL DAYS: Esther Kramp of Round Lake Road, and a number of the pupils she taught 50 years ago in the rural schools of Bengal-Riley School District, recently paid a return visit to those days of yesteryear.

It all began, Esther said, with a letter from former pupil Joyce Parker Hanson, who now lives in Edina, MN, asking if she would be home when Hansons came this way on Friday, September 5.

"I knew that Clarence Hurst was here from Apache Junction, AZ visiting his children," Esther continued, "so I began calling other 'children' I had taught and inviting them to stop by."

The project snowballed from there, as the past pupils remembered and contacted others who had attended Esther's first teaching assignment at Rec School in Victor Township, between 1931 and 1937, in grades one through eight.

"I loved those kids," Esther recalls, "and I really enjoyed that Friday afternoon get-together."

The former schoolmates and their spouses ate finger foods as they pored over snapshots of their schooldays and reminisced about...the work that went into their old Christmas programs, the penny socials they gave to earn money for extras at the school, and the fear that gripped them as eighth graders when they were transported to one central location to take the graduation test from the dreaded county school commissioner.

Thirties pupils, who returned, for the impromptu reunion, included Evelyn Miller Acheson from Indianapolis, IN, Bernita Cortright Sage from Gladwin, Roy Parker from Ludington, Dr. Stuart Sleight of East Lansing and Rose Miller Cantine of with DeWitt High School's band, can verify the above.

University of Michigan freshman Doug Wilcox, who was DHS drum major last year, is elated to be playing trumpet with the U. of M. marching band as the Big Ten college football season begins. The son of Diana Cranmer, Sage Lane, and Ron Wilcox, Manchester Drive, Wilcox could be seen on national when the band performed half-time during the Big Ten Game of the Week between U. of M. and Notre Dame Saturday, September 13.

Likewise thrilled is sophomore trombonist Mike McKeon, who performed his freshman year with Ball State University's marching band in Muncie, IN, and transferred to U. of M. this year. As a priority alternate, who survived the cuts made of the many aspiring U. of M. band members, he expects to play this season too. His parents are Ed and Marion McKeon, Southwind Lane.

Both lads acquired healthy tans on the Ann Arbor campus in recent weeks, as they practiced marching for seven hours a day. Then they spent an additional three hours of musical band practice indoors.

Just starting his band practice this week is sophomore Matt Elliott, son of Larry and Shirley Elliott, Dill Road. Elliott, who plays trumpet, is returning to play in the marching band at Michigan State University.

The three young musicians received their high school musical training under DHS band director Jeff Kressler, an MSU alumnus and a former marching band member who still composes some of the arrangements for State's marching band.

CITY COUNCIL NOTES

CITY HALL RECONSTRUCTION

DeWitt Building Authority chairman Austin Knapp gave an optimistic report on city hall's reconstruction progress, appearing at the Monday council meeting which was again held in DeWitt Memorial Building. Council chambers have been nonexistent the last two months as construction continues both inside and outside of city hall. City staff members, who are now quartered on the completed west side of the building, should be able to move into their east side offices in early October.

ASSESSING RESEARCH

Surveyor Fred White explained the intricacies of rechecking the old assessors' plats for DeWitt's downtown district. Council members had questions about why his fees might range from $100 to $150 per parcel.

White told them that the price could vary, depending upon just how much research and resurveying would be required. So many discrepancies have been found in the old 1930-39 assessor's surveys that the county will no longer collect delinquent taxes on some of the sites until the situation has been remedied.

OTHER ACTION

The city agreed to pay an additional $817 interest assessment to the Michigan Department of Transportation for DeWitt Road-Bridge Street work. The contract is still being drawn up to cover the city's usage of DeWitt Township's water tower.

Councilors accepted Sherwin Williams' bid for a line striping machine for the Department of Public Works. They will pay $700 for a demonstrator, used only once, which will replace an outdated model for which parts are no longer available.

Garage Door Service of DeWitt's low bid of $2,535 for automatic door openers and two new 12-foot DPW garage doors was accepted. Council also approved $15,787 for office furnishings from DBI Business Interiors of Lansing.

Bob Drouin, city representative on the Southern Clinton County Municipal Utilities Authority, presented a report to council. One of the facts he cited was that the sewer authority currently uses 1.4

Gladwin, Roy Parker from Ludington, Dr. Stuart Sleight of East Lansing and Rose Miller Cantine of Eaton Rapids, in addition to some who still live in the DeWitt-Bath-Laingsburg area. Phone calls from others who couldn't get there added to the overall excitement.

During her 22 years of teaching, Esther also taught at Olive Center, Lemm, Lott and Chapman rural schools, but her fondest recollections are of those early pupils in her first country school.

PIERCE ANNIVERSARY: George and Wilma Pierce's friends and relatives gathered to congratulate the couple on their 40th wedding anniversary on a sunny, pleasant, September 7 afternoon.

Pierces, who reside on Wilson Street, were guests of honor at an open house given by their children at Redeemer United Methodist Church. The pair had exchanged their wedding vows four decades ago on September 7, 1946, in the Plymouth, IN home of Wilma Morris' parents, Orville and Mary Morris.

Hosting the anniversary open house were their three children and spouses: Kenneth and Deborah Pierce of Marshall with children Corinne, Chad and Colleen; Bob and Mary Pington of Marshall with children Robbie and Laura, and Charles and Jan Pierce of Goodrich.

KARATE CLUB FORMING: DeWitt Tang Soo Do Karate Club is currently forming, following its initial orientation and demonstration program last week. Classes will begin Tuesday, September 16, at DeWitt Conservatory, 115 N. Bridge Street.

Boys and girls ages 10 and up, as well as men and women may take the classes. Eight and nine-year-old youngsters may be accepted after a personal interview.

Applications are available at the conservatory. Anyone interested in registering or information about the karate program, please contact instructor Scott Kramer 482-8866.

MARCHING BAND MEMBERS: It may look easy when they strut out on the football fields, but those smooth numbers performed by our university marching bands represent gruelling hours of practice.

Three DeWitt young men, who formerly performed sented a report to council. One of the facts he cited was that the sewer authority currently uses 1.4 million gallons of water daily, out of a potential 5 million gallons that could be used at its full capacity.

TOWNSHIP MINUTES

DeWitt Charter Township trustees turned thumbs down on paying an assessment toward the City of DeWitt's projected purchase of a new fire truck, citing the expense incurred by their own recent purchase of two new fire trucks.

First readings of uniform traffic and fire codes were both passed. Passage of the traffic code means, Clerk Greg Whitlock explained, that the township can now write traffic tickets under local ordinances as opposed to writing them previously under state ordinances.

Future amendments will probably be made to the fire code, Whitlock went on, particularly in regard to relaxing the statute on burning barrels.

The township will receive $10,000 through sale of their two older fire trucks to Oakfield Township in northeastern Kent County. Rezoning was approved for a new mobile home park which Ted Powell plans to build on State Road near King Arthur's Court.

A special use permit for Brown Bros. Mining & Gravel on Clark Road was reapproved for a year, and authorization was given to the clerk to contact Consumers Power about installing a street light requested by Boichot Road residents.

DEWITT PTA HOLDS FIRST MEETING TONIGHT

The DeWitt Elementary PTA will hold its first meeting of the new school year on Monday, September 15, at 7 p.m. in the Scott School cafeteria.

Featured speakers are the two new elementary school principals: Bruce

R. MacDonald, Scott School principal; and M. Kay Hannah, Fuerstenau School principal.

Parents of DeWitt Elementary School students are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to meet the new principals.

SCHOOL BOARD ACTION

Total K-12 enrollment for the DeWitt School District is 1,701, an increase of 12 students over last year, school board members learned at the Monday night board of education meeting.

The board adopted six recommendations from the facilities committee, including one that a referendum be set for March or April 1987, asking district voters' approval of financing measures for proposed building projects. Other recommendations were: to adopt Proposal 2 presented by the board architect for further development; to secure a financial consultant to develop a fiscal model for financing the planned projects; to move ahead with the selected architect to develop a more finite physical model for Proposal 2; to establish a citizens' committee to assist in the referendum presentation; that the facilities committee and superintendent work with the architect and financial consultant to set up a schedule of events and deadlines to meet requirements for the proposed referendum and have them in place by December 1, 1986.

The Board members also set four goal areas for 1986-87: to improve and expand the school district

Women's Looking Glass Program Debuts Tuesday

Women's Looking Glass, the popular weekly interdenominational gathering for women of all ages, begins its fourth annual fall program tomorrow - Tuesday, September 16.

Women of the area are invited to meet at DeWitt Community Church from 9 to 11:45 a.m. for friendship, sharing, and creative arts. An infant nursery and preschool program for two to six-year-olds will be provided.

Electives will include making an Advent Calendar, Basket Weaving II, Counted Cross-Stitch and Culinary and Decorative Although work still continues on both the exterior and interior of DeWitt's expanded city hall, this rear view of the renovated building gives an indication of what the future holds a handsome structure that will indeed be a great deal more attractive than its predecessor.

City and police staff, who have been carrying on their daily duties amid the dust and clatter of hammers, look forward to completion of the project. The larger building will provide more room for city personnel, office equipment and storage.

Middle School Staff Changes

New staff members this term at DeWitt Middle School include Catherine Goodwin and Michael Dojka.

Goodwin, a graduate of Michigan State University, will teach eighth grade physical science for the first semester. She is substituting for Larry September is the month for Michigan purple plums. The plum crop is down both nationally and in the state, but they will still be readily available throughout most of the month. Both Michigan varieties have blue-black skins and green-yellow flesh. They offer one big advantage over other plums on the market now: Michigan plums come off the pit easily when ripe. They are also very sweet.

Michigan has a 38 percent larger pear crop than that of a year earlier. Look for Bartlett pears through September, with the winter Bosc pear on the market through the end of the year.

You'll also find Michigan blueberries, peaches, cantaloupe, apples, and grapes readily available most of this month. One surprise in store for shoppers at some farm markets are the fresh raspberries. That's right, raspberries in September! The Heritage variety fruits in September when properly managed.

Almost every kind of vegetable grown commercially in Michigan will be available this month, but look especially for the cole vegetables. Michigan growers are increasing their production of broccoli, cauliflower, specialty cabbages and such. This will be the last month to get locally grown salad vegetables at summertime prices.

GUNNISONVILLE BAZAAR: The ledgies of Gunnisonville United Methodist Church should have the fall bazaar field to themselves with their annual bazaar scheduled for Friday, October 3.

Seasonal crafts, a bake sale, noon luncheon and a Swiss steak dinner will be featured on their day-long program. Proceeds from the bazaar will benefit the missions.

Co-chairing the bazaar tables are Bernice Bohland, Esther Hemingway and Pauline Rhynard. Chairpersons of the luncheon, to be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., are Laurel Headley, Doris Farnham, and Jean Johnson.

Florence Hartman and Althea Placer are overseeing plans for the Swiss steak supper, which will be served between 5 and 7 p.m.

OTHER BAZAARS: November and December are the choices of other local churches and organizations for their annual fall fund-raisers.

The second weekend of November is a popular date. DeWitt Township's Fall Arts and Crafts Sale will be held Friday and Saturday, November 7-8. St. Jude Church in DeWitt and St. Isidore Church in Laingsburg have both selected Saturday, November 8, for their bazaars.

Redeemer United Methodist Church will hold its two-day bazaar Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15.

Hope Lutheran Church has selected Saturday, December 6, closer to Christmas, for their 1986

RECOLLECTIONS OF DEWITT PAST

These cool autumn days are a pleasant time to stroll through tree-shaded DeWitt Cemetery on N. Bridge Street. In addition to many very old monuments, sitting in the older section of the well-kept cemetery grounds, are historical markers such as that which the Clinton County Historical Society erected to honor pioneer Eunice Forbes Scott during DeWitt's 1983 sesquicentennial ceremonies. Eunice was the wife of Captain David Scott, who founded DeWitt.

Another tall marker over a venerable grave bears no name, only this poignant message, "Land Prospector - First White Man Died in DeWitt Township - October 1833."

Hope Lutheran Church has selected Saturday, December 6, closer to Christmas, for their 1986 bazaar date. DeWitt Cooperative Preschool will also hold their annual Santa Luncheon on December 6.

ADULT MUSICIANS WANTED: DeWitt Community Concert Band is about to begin its second year and would welcome to its ranks any local musicians 17 years of age and older.

The initial practice will be held Wednesday evening, September 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the DeWitt High School band room.

The concert band had a good first year, according to director Patricia Keilen Jackson, and expects to do more concerts and musical programs in the year ahead. Thirty members performed last year and she hopes to see them returning this fall.

The band plays a wide variety of music. Musicians who play all instruments are welcome to join the group.

No tuition or auditions are involved. Adult musicians who have questions about the area-wide community concert band may call Jackson at home in Ithaca, 517/857-2137, or school, 517/224-6831.

SUCCESSFUL SCRAMBLE: Perfect Saturday weather and 108 golfers enabled the DeWitt Public Schools Foundation to net $1,500 for their educational endeavors from their second annual Scramble Golf Tournament. They also had the second largest outing in the history of Prairie Creek Golf Course.

The successful September 13 fund-raiser will aid the foundation in continuing their scholarships, grants, and financial support of extra education programs.

Everybody came up a winner during the sunny Saturday golf outing, thanks to heaps of door prizes from community-minded local businesses.

First place prize went to the team of Tom Kolberg, Rich Knapp, Greg Overway, and Steve Cassada, who scored 59 for the 18 holes of golf.

Second place winners were Jim Johnson, Ron Shern, Mike House, and Dan Frost. Taking third place were Kathy Gaskin, Carol Brown, John Romagnoli, and Karl Bohnhoff.

Rich Knapp made the longest drive - 300 yards; Kathy Carpenter won the prize for coming closest to the pin.

TAKES FIRST VOWS: Bill and Joyce Reed of E. River Drive returned Tuesday from a five-day New York trip, during which they attended the North Bronx ceremony at which their son Joseph took his first vows in the Christian Brothers religious order.

Joe, 25, who had just finished his year of novitiate, is now teaching math, physics, and religion classes at St. Raymond's High School in the Bronx. He spent two pre-novitiate years teaching at St. Joseph Collegiate High School in Buffalo.

The 1978 DeWitt High School graduate had gone on to earn his degree in mechanical engineering at Michigan Technological University in Houghton. Joe was introduced to the order of Christian Brothers at a weekend retreat while he was attending Michigan Tech. He then spent two summers with the brothers during college working with boys who were wards of the court in Albany, NY.

Reeds flew into Newark, NJ, and rented a car, visiting relatives in Staten Island and Troy, while they were out East.

TOWNSHIP ARTS & CRAFTS SALE: November 7 & 8 will be the dates for the annual fall Arts & Crafts Sale sponsored by DeWitt Charter Township.

The sale will be held Friday, November 7, from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, November 8, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The fee is $12 with a $2 refund if the area is left clean.

Registration may be in person or by mail. Mail registrants will have a space assigned to them. Those who register in person may select their own locations from spots available.

Sign-ups will be held on the following days only: Friday, October 3, from noon to 7 p.m. for township residents only; Saturday, October 4, noon to 5 p.m.; Monday, October 6, 3 to 5 p.m. No phone registrations will be accepted.

School News

DeWitt High School teachers, who attended a special workshop last spring on chemical and alcohol dependency, have initiated a program to attack the problem here.

They have opened a school resource center, are working to increase community awareness and organize a community task force. Principal Fred Goers, science teacher Tom Zielaskowski, math instructor Gail Thornton, English teachers Lyn Kressler and Penny Rypstra, business instructor Peggy Williams and high school counselor Bill Rushcamp addressed the DeWitt Board of Education about the program at their September meeting.

It's a judge's privilege to change his mind. A male witness approached the bench in court wearing a knit cap, and the judge promptly ordered, "Remove that immediately. You're in court."

The witness did, revealing a mop of hair in curlers. Quickly the judge reversed himself, "Put that hat back on!"

Brown Foliage Causes Dismay

Responding to citizen complaints about chemical spraying of roadsides, which turns foliage brown, Clinton County commissioners discussed the problem at their last meeting.

Lack of funds prevents county road crews from mowing and clearing roadsides, commissioners pointed out, so that spraying is the only alternative. Health and agricultural officials say that the chemical used, Garland 3A, is EPA-approved and not hazardous.

The chemical turns leaves brown the year the spray is used and the next year the plant doesn't reappear. Complaints have stemmed from the ugly appearance of the brown roadsides.

4-H FAMILIES RAISE LEADER DOGS FOR BLIND

What 4-H project combines families and dogs while providing opportunities for community service and personal growth?

The 4-H leader dogs for the blind project.

"The purpose of the 4-H project is to help us help blind people," says Tom Miller, public relations specialist with Leader Dogs for the Blind in Rochester, Michigan. "We have puppies of our own breeding stock, but we need people in the community who want to raise dogs for us."

Each year, approximately 200 Michigan 4-H families raise puppies for the Leader Dogs for the Blind. In 1984, three of our four dogs accepted by the school were raised by Michigan 4-H members and their families, says John Aylsworth, Michigan 4-H youth program leader. The families housebreak and socialize the dogs and may teach some obedience commands. It is important that the dogs be family dogs, friendly to everyone.

"4-H families have been successful because family members spend a lot of time with the puppies, walking them along busy streets and taking them into public places," Aylsworth says. "If a dog is rejected, it is usually because the dog is people- or car-shy."

dogs because of the breeds' characteristic short hair and good disposition. Families receive the dogs as puppies and raise them for about one year. The dogs are then returned to the Leader Dogs for the Blind for evaluation as potential leader dogs.

"The partnership of 4-H and the Leader Dogs for the Blind has been very good for both programs," Miller says. "The 4-H clubs have been able to raise and develop animals for us. We're then able to give the dogs formalized training. Afterwards, we assign them to blind persons as leader dogs."

Dogs that do not graduate and become leader dogs are offered back to the families who raised them as puppies. If the families are unable to take them back, a good home is guaranteed.

"We have a two-year waiting list of families who want to provide a permanent home to dogs that do not graduate from our program," Miller says. "People know our breeding stock is excellent and thanks to the programs like the one through 4-H, they know the dogs have received excellent care and training during their first year."

County Homemakers Program Is Offered

Are you tired of always doing things for others but never doing anything for yourself? There is an organization within the Cooperative Extension Service that provides classes for adults who want to improve themselves as a spouse, parent, and/or individual. The organization is called the Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers (M.A.E.H.)

There are several M.A.E.H. groups scattered throughout the county. Each group meets monthly in their joint community to hear a lesson regarding new information in home and family development. Some example lessons include increasing self-esteem, kerosene heater safety, child abuse, diet and cancer, cooking on a diet and low-cost interior decorating.

Currently there are 110 members throughout Clinton County. One very special member is Grace Frizzell of Elsie. Grace was 95 on September 10 and has been a member since 1937.

New acquisitions of the Clinton County archives, to be found in the Genealogy Room at DeWitt Charter Township 4700 Brook Road, include: Book 1 and 2 of the Essex Township Ledgers - 1938; Gratiot County History Index on loan; Topographical Atlas of Tompkins County, New York 1966; several issues of "Cousin Huntin'" from 1966 to the current edition.

Volumes 1 and 2 of Eaton County Newspapers provide many small newspaper items and brief accounts of more lengthy items with newspaper reference for these for dates 1845-1870.

Persons who have items they would like published in the quarterly "Clinton County Trails" may leave the material at the archives.

Along The Looking Glass

The Women's Looking Glass series continues each Tuesday morning at DeWitt Community Church through October 28. Area women are welcome to attend.

The motivational programs are in their fourth year. A children's program and nursery are provided each Tuesday to care for infants through pre-school youngsters so that mothers may attend the 9 to 11:45 a.m. series.

NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH: Thanks to the initiative of Millie Vance and Linda Fritch, residents in the area of Luroma subdivision near Clark and Shavey Roads have taken first steps to set up a Neighborhood Watch program.

DeWitt Township police officer Rich Smith and Sgt. Larry Domeney spoke to more than 20 assembled neighbors, who had been invited to Vance's Luroma Drive home a week ago.

"We don't expect you to be police officers," Smith said in addressing the group, "but you can be our eyes and ears. We will assist you in any way we can to make your neighborhood safer."

NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH

"Get to know your neighbors," he continued, pointing out that awareness of a neighbor's daily schedule and living pattern helps those nearby to notice when something unusual occurs.

While the quiet, semi-rural subdivision area has had few problems, residents believe in being prepared by learning the best ways to thwart potential theft or criminals. They have set subsequent meetings at which to elect a captain who will be a contact

City Again Sponsors Tree Planting Program

The City of DeWitt will cooperate with property owners in a joint street tree planting program, again this fall, it was announced this week.

Dan Bourbon, Chairman of the City Tree Commission, said residents will be able to purchase trees from the city at wholesale prices and city crews will plant them.

Citizens will be able to select the kind of tree they want from a list of approved species. They will also have a voice in deciding where the tree should be planted. The only restrictions are that the tree must be placed in the public right-of-way or within 20 feet of the front property line and that a new tree cannot be within 30 feet of an existing healthy tree.

"We expect to be able to put all of the trees where the residents want them," said Bourbon, "But to take care of any problems, the Department vance. The city will make a bulk purchase of trees after the number of orders is known. Planting will take place throughout the fall.

Residents will be responsible for watering, fertilizing and caring for the trees after planting.

They will be guaranteed for one year and any, which die in that period, will be replaced without charge.

Bourbon said the cost of the trees will be from $39 to $49, depending on species. Species available include Superform Norway Maple, Skyline Honeylocust, Marshall Seedless Ash, and Northern Red Oak. Trees will be 1-1/4 to 2 inches in diameter and 8-10 feet tall.

CITY COUNCIL NOTES

DeWitt Downtown Development chairman Jim Hovey presented the DDA annual report at Monday's city council meeting. Hovey cited the possibility of a Michigan State University class working on DeWitt development plans as a special project.

St. Jude Sets Open House

The Community of St. Jude will hold an information night and open house for all persons in the DeWitt area, who are interested in knowing more about the Catholic faith, on Tuesday evening, September 30, at 7:30 p.m.

The evening will be informal with an opportunity to tour the church, meet members of the community and ask questions about the Catholic faith.

Jack Armstrong, parish coordinator of religious education, will host the evening. Armstrong indicated that the evening has two purposes.

"The first purpose," he explained, "is to reach out to people in the area, who do not have a church and are looking for a community of faith to help them deal with the many problems people face in our society."

On Wednesday, Hovey received confirmation from Dr. Roger Hamlin of Michigan State University that five of his masters' candidates in urban planning will act as a consulting firm for the Downtown Development Authority, providing a market analysis of the business community. Hovey says that hopefully their study will provide an outline of what residents would like to see accomplished downtown.

DDA members hope to finalize plans with the MSU students at their next meeting, Thursday, October 23.

The issue of Main Street resurfacing again was discussed, as residents complained about the unusual amount of dust raised by the process. City officials believe the problem stems from a misunderstanding of the sealing process, which was a much cheaper method than adding asphalt to the surface.

City DPW crews wet down the gravel, which has been poured over the hot tar, and swept away the excess in an effort to minimize the dust problem.

City assessor Gail Watkins has asked that surveyor Fred White check carefully as he re-evaluates the city's old downtown platting, to make certain that no addi-

Gunnisonville Bazaar Friday

Members of Gunnisonville United Methodist Church will hold their annual fall bazaar this Friday, October 3, from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The church is located on Clark Road at the corner of Wood Road.

A soup and salad luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. and a Swiss steak dinner from 5 until 7 p.m. Dinner prices are $4.50 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12.

A bake sale, handicrafts, and white elephant sale will be featured.

DEWITT HOSTS INVITATIONAL

Five area high school teams from two different conferences competed in the Clinton County Golf Invitational held at Prairie Creek Golf Course on Saturday, September 20. This is the first year that Clinton County has hosted the invitational.

Host DeWitt High School came in third with a 333rd score. Laingsburg took first place with a low score of 318 on the 18-hole course. St. Johns turned in a 325-shot score; Pewamo-Westphalia, 341, and Ovid-Elsie, 402.

DeWitt individual scores were: Ebert, 80; McKinney, 84; Deak, 85; Reynolds, 88. Laingsburg

BAZAAR SEASON BEGINS

Gunnisonville United Methodist Church women have been plying busy needles to prepare for their annual fall bazaar, which will be held this coming Friday, October 3, in the church at Clark and Wood Roads.

Esther Hemingway, left, and Bernice Bohland, right, show off some of the afghans, Christmas tree ornaments and handmade pieces which will attract customers to the bazaar counters Friday.

Is your family interested in having a family portrait taken just in time for the Christmas holidays? Is it something you always wanted to do but never had the time or money? Would you like a special portrait to hang in your home proudly showing off your family? Did you want to have family photographs to share with family far away at the holiday season? Do you want to have a family portrait to keep as a memento?

If you answered yes to one or more of these questions, you should respond to a special project being offered right now by the 4-H Youth Program. You do not have to be a member of a 4-H club to take advantage of this project and the proceeds will go to further 4-H programs in Clinton County during the coming year.

You can have a beautiful 16" x 20" full color family portrait taken for only $5.00. This doesn't seem like very much and it isn't, but it is an honest offer without hidden catches.

A professional photographer with Majestic studios will take the family portraits on October 11. The plan has a 30-day unconditional money back guarantee.

Along the Looking Glass

DeWitt Business Association will meet at noon Wednesday, October 1, at Foo Ying Restaurant. With the advent of fall DBA will now hold their luncheon meetings on the first and third Wednesdays of the month.

WXYZ (Wacousta Senior Citizens) will meet at Wacousta Methodist Church Wednesday, October 1, for a noon potluck luncheon.

The program is to be "Corabell and Her Travels." A flu immunization clinic will be held in the fellowship hall from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Bath Shootin' Stars will sponsor square dance lessons on Wednesday nights for beginner couples and those who wish a refresher course, beginning this Wednesday, October 1.

Lessons will be given in the Bath Elementary School gym at 8 p.m. Wendell Law will be the instructor. Registration will be both October 1 and 8 with October 1, a free night.

Plant Spring Bulbs In Fall

Are you trying to figure out where to plant all the new fall planted-spring flowering bulbs? Here are a few suggestions.

The very early flowering bulbs may be planted under deciduous trees (ones that lose their leaves) because they'll have flowered and dried back before the trees leaf out to shade them.

Late flowering bulbs should be planted where they'll get a full day's sun. There, the foliage will be able to make food for the bulbs to store and draw from for next year's flowers.

The most important concern should be drainage--bulbs planted in poorly drained or low-lying, wet areas, tend to rot.

A woman, holding up a placard, was militantly pacing back and forth in front of a supermarket. The manager sent a stock boy to find out what was on the placard.

He came back to report: "Remember the lady who was picketing us last year because we sold non-union lettuce? Well, that's her. Now she's picketing us because the price of lettuce is too high."

Offering Flu Immunization Clinics in the area.

Senior citizens and people with chronic diseases, such as diabetes are at risk when the flu strikes. Such individuals are encouraged to be immunized against the more common influenza viruses to avoid the sickness and its complications, or at least to weaken their effects on the body.

The schedule is as follows:

Valley Farms, Mon. Sept. 29, 10:00-11:30, DeWitt Township Offices, 482-1291.

Vegetable Quality Will Deteriorate with Frost

When fruits and vegetables suffer frost-bite, their quality immediately starts to deteriorate. If left alone, the produce will develop strange flavors and some discoloration.

The hitch in this whole situation is that many vegetables will not be ripe when you have to harvest them. What do you do then?

Because of this deterioration, all produce should be canned or frozen within 24 hours after the frost. This will preserve as much quality as possible. The more time that elapses between the frost and preserving the produce, the lower its quality will be.

King of Kings on State Road across from King Arthur's Court, on which a new mobile home park is to be built.

Discussion ensued regarding extension of the sewer line to serve the proposed mobile home area.

The uniform traffic code ordinance, also approved on second reading, will now take effect in 30 days. Trustees authorized continuing general fund millage levies at the same rate as last year.

Three special use permits were approved for 1) Patricia Ostrom to operate a beauty shop in her home on Prairie View; 2) Gordon Watros' automotive services, the Michigan Off-Road Vehicle Center, which has opened in the former Hostess Bakery building on US-27; 3) CTL Industries to open a retail sales of plants and landscape materials behind the Draft House on US-27.

A fourth permit request for a dog boarding house and kennel on W. Howe Road was returned to the Planning Commission because changes had been made in the original plans.

Board members approved $250 to purchase winter apparel, long-sleeved shirts, for the township police department.

A business card for exercise classes reads: "We fix flats - four weeks. Rear end alignment - six weeks. Complete overhaul - eight weeks."

30 day unconditional money back guarantee and the Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval.

To get more information or to take advantage of this offer, contact the Cooperative Extension Service, 306 Elm Street, St. Johns, or call 224-3288

Appointments must be made no later than October 3rd and time slots are filled on a first-come basis.

Women's Soccer Team Undefeated

The DeWitt women's soccer team is undefeated after the first two games of its fall schedule. The Panthers won their season opener by a score of 5 to 3 with single goals by Carol Reed, Sue Wright, and Linda Lotoszinski.

Lillian Tucker kicked in two goals for the victory. Last week's score was 4 to 1 with two goals by Lotoszinski and one apiece by Tucker and Sharon Rice.

This is the second year that DeWitt has fielded a team in the Lansing Area Women's Soccer League. Coach George Baisley credits this season's victories to a year of dedicated practice by team members, most of whom had never played soccer before. Sharing coaching duties with Baisley are Ben Kinsey and Norm Robison.

DeWitt area women interested in playing soccer can contact Sharon Rice at 669-5409.

The Lansing Catholic Diocese will observe "Senior Parishioners Appreciation Week" October 6-10. Seniors in Ingham, Clinton, and Eaton counties are invited to a recognition Mass to be held at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, East Lansing, on Friday, October 10, at 11 a.m. Luncheon and entertainment will follow.

For reservations, contact Bertha Lennermann, 669-3127.

A tri-county nutrition luncheon for senior citizens will be served at noon Thursday, October 2, at St. Jude Church, N. Bridge Street, in addition to the luncheons which are served every Tuesday noon.

Wacousta OES No. 133 will hold their second annual Fallfest Arts & Crafts Show Saturday, October 4, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Wacousta Masonic Temple.
